Welcome to Memorial Stadium!

Every season is great in Nebraska, but to Cornhusker fans, the best one has arrived—football season! And there's no better way to kick off another great Big Red campaign than by honoring Eddie Robinson, the winningest coach in college football.

We know from experience that a championship football program does not simply happen—it requires talent, hard work, and vision. As a state, Nebraska is building its own winning program. Our foundation is our excellent quality of life and strong work ethic. By working together as partners—as a team—we are focused on creating stronger children, families, and communities as we move into a new century.

Nebraskans understand the satisfaction that comes from doing a job well and making a difference. With the lowest unemployment rate in the nation and new jobs being created every day, we offer great opportunities for those from outside the state who are looking for the "good life." Those sponsoring print and electronic advertising for this event today are great examples of the caring and committed business community that helps keep our state on the cutting edge.

As you look around today, you can see that Nebraskans also love to have a good time! The 76,000 fans who fill Memorial Stadium on football Saturdays comprise our state's third-largest "community." From Omaha's world-famous Henry Doorly Zoo to the Panhandle's historic Chimney Rock, Nebraska is filled with attractions and activities which have made tourism our third-largest industry. It's a great place to work, play, and stay.

As you enjoy today's game, remember—if you like to work hard and play hard, there truly is no place like Nebraska!

Sincerely,

E. Benjamin Nelson
Governor

Welcome to the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium...

Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak.

You are going to experience some inconvenience this year because of construction, but the new facilities will be a great addition for the entire University. We are continuing our commitment to make improvements and innovations which will add to your enjoyment of game day at Memorial Stadium.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers begin defense of their national title this afternoon by playing host to Louisiana Tech in the Genuine Nebraska Eddie Robinson Football Classic.

Today's game begins a new era in Husker football, as Head Coach Frank Solich makes his debut on the Nebraska sideline. Solich, who is profiled on page 10, has been an assistant coach at Nebraska for the past 19 seasons, serving as running backs coach since 1982 and assistant head coach since 1991. He is the 26th head coach in school history and only the third since 1962.

The new Husker head coach will look to continue Nebraska's long-time tradition of success. In the 1990s, the Huskers' record of 87-11-1 (.884 winning percentage) is the best mark in Division I, and over the past five seasons, NU has posted a 60-3 record, the most wins during any five-year period in NCAA history.

The Huskers' fourth-place showing in The Associated Press preseason poll extends Nebraska's NCAA record string of 276 weeks in the weekly rankings. NU, which is also ranked third in the ESPN/USA Today preseason coaches poll, is one of only two teams to win three national titles in a four-year span (Notre Dame in 1946, 1947 and 1949).

With seven of their 12 returning starters on defense, the Husker Blackshirts will be a force to be reckoned with in 1998. Despite losing a pair of NFL first-round draft choices in Grant Wistrom and Jason Peter, the defensive line will be solid as senior rush end Chad Kelsay and defensive tackle Jason Wiltz return. Senior Mike Rucker and junior Steve Warren both played extensively the past two seasons.

The linebacking corps will be led by senior Mike linebacker Jay Foreman. A two-year starter, Foreman is the backbone of a Husker defense which allowed 73 yards-per game and was third nationally in 1997. Juniors Tony Ortiz and Brian Shaw split time at the Sam linebacker position, while junior Eric Johnson will man the Will linebacker spot.

In the secondary, NU returns both starters at cornerback, including junior Ralph Brown, a first-team All-Big 12 selection, and sophomore Erwin Swiney. Hard-hitting rover Mike Brown anchors the defensive backfield while sophomore Clint Finley will start at free safety. Finley suffered a knee strain in fall camp and may not be able to play in the opener.

With the return of senior Kris Brown, the Husker kicking game is in solid shape. Brown holds school career records in field goals, extra points and points by a kicker. He is just 14 points away from the career scoring record held by former Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier. Punter Bill Lafleur has seen limited playing time, punting four times for a 41.5 yard average in three seasons.

Bite Out of High-Flying Bulldogs

With new starters at quarterback, I-back, tight end and four spots on the offensive line, it may take some time for the Husker offense to gel. Although there is an abundance of talent, most of it is unproven. Quarterback Bobby Newcombe won the starting nod with a strong performance during the spring. The sophomore from Albuquerque, N.M., showed tremendous poise during the spring and in fall camp. Newcombe has shown the ability to create big plays, averaging 16 yards every time he touched the ball last year as a wingback.

Newcombe will be helped by an abundance of returning skill position players. Senior Joel Makovicka returns at fullback after rushing for 685 yards last season. A first-team academic All-American, Makovicka tied a school fullback record with nine touchdowns in 1997. At I-back, sophomore DeAngelo Evans returns after missing last season with a pelvic injury. Evans looks to return to his freshman-year form when he rushed for 776 yards and reached the 100-yard mark on four occasions.

Among the offensive returnees, the most experience is at the receiver positions. At wingback, seniors Shevin Wiggins and Lance Brown shared

All-America receiver Troy Edwards is Rattay's favorite target, hauling in 102 passes for 1,707 yards last fall. Edwards, a senior, led the nation in receiving yardage and was second in catches on the year. Wide receivers Cedric Williams and Sean Cangelosi also caught more than 25 passes in 1997. The Bulldogs also have a strong running threat in running back Bobby Ray Tell, who gained 800 yards (6.8 ypc.) last season. The one question mark is the offensive line where the Bulldogs must replace four of five starters from a year ago.

Defensively, Tech returns seven starters on defense, led by defensive tackle Jerome King, who had a team-high seven sacks last season, and linebacker Selu Alofipo, who is the Bulldogs' top returning tackler with 55 stops in 1997.

Husker Flashback:

Aug. 29, 1983; Kickoff Classic
East Rutherford, N.J.

Nebraska 44 Penn St. 6

Behind the running and passing of senior quarterback Turner Gill, the Huskers made their first preseason appearance a success, knocking off defending national champion Penn State, 44-6, in the first-ever Kickoff Classic in East Rutherford, N.J.

Gill threw for 158 yards and a touchdown, while rushing for 53 yards and another score as the Big Red scored on two of its first three possessions en route to a 44-0 lead late in the contest. The loss is the worst in Penn State Coach Joe Paterno's 32 years as a head coach.

Today's contest will mark the fourth time the Huskers have played in a preseason contest.

the starting role a year ago, while senior split end Kenny Cheatham led the Huskers with 14 receptions in 1997. Senior Sheldon Jackson alternated at tight end, catching 11 passes, including two touchdowns. The senior from Diamond Bar, Calif., had a career-best four receptions in the Orange Bowl win over Tennessee.

On the offensive line, the Huskers will look to replace five of their top six linemen, including Outland Trophy winner Aaron Taylor. Senior center Josh Heskew is the only returnee. At guard, James Sherman and Ben Gessford earned starting nods with their performances in spring and in fall camp. Both players saw action in reserve roles last season, and Gessford can also play tackle to provide more depth. Juniors Jason Schwab and Adam Julch will start at the tackle positions. Julch dislocated his right ankle in the spring game, but should be near 100 percent for today's contest. Both Schwab and Julch saw action in 10 games in 1997.

Louisiana Tech will present a formidable challenge to the Husker defense which ranked fifth in the nation in total defense in 1997. Under the direction of third-year Coach Gary Crowton, the Bulldogs went 9-2 last season including victories over Alabama and California. Tech's nine victories were the most since joining Division I in 1988. The Bulldogs return six starters from an offense that was third nationally in 1997.

Bulldog quarterback Tim Rattay led the nation in total offense last year, averaging 360 yards a game. The junior from Phoenix, Ariz., threw for 34 touchdowns and recorded nine 300-yard passing performances in his first season as a starter.

THE REAL STUFF.SM

A new Husker era begins. But the stuff of champions continues. Because real champions put on attitude before they hit the field. And Huskers Authentic has the real stuff that helps create that Husker championship attitude on the gridiron, volleyball and basketball courts, and soccer field: Coach's polos (above), jerseys, sideline jackets, sweats, and much more. It's all absolutely identical to what the Huskers wear. So suit up with Huskers Authentic and put on attitude – the real stuff of champions.

A Message from the Chancellor

Memorial Stadium A Tribute To Veterans

This summer's premiere of "Saving Private Ryan" has sharpened our focus on the heroic actions of World War II soldiers who stormed the beachhead at Normandy on D-Day. As we remember those brave men, both survivors and their comrades who perished in the fight for freedom, our thoughts turn to the actions of all American veterans who, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, gave that "last full measure of devotion."

It is fitting, then, that we never forget the significance of Memorial Stadium.

We build monuments to remember great achievements. Memorial Stadium is a monument to great achievement. It is where Nebraskans from all walks of life gather together as one people to share in the pride of their great state. Its walls echo with the sounds of past glories.

Seventy-five years ago Charles Richards, a former dean of the College of Engineering and an early builder of this great university, gave the dedication speech for this stadium. He recalled the university's first football field, which ran east to west and was situated just to the south of this stadium. That first field was built upon a landfill composed of refuse from the university's past — building materials, chunks of bricks and mortar, cinders from early coal-fired furnaces — this was all covered with a layer of clay and packed to the hardness of a concrete floor.

Nebraska players were also tough in those days. They played on firm ground, built upon the remnants of the past, remnants of buildings that represented the ideal of higher learning on these Great Plains.

Memorial Stadium is also built on a firm foundation, a foundation that also rests on an ideal. That ideal is freedom.

At the 1923 dedication of Memorial Stadium, Chancellor Charles Avery said the stadium would always be an ideal, rendered in concrete, of the strength and solidarity of the American institution of higher learning. I would add that it is a unique institution that is only possible in a free and democratic society bought for us by the sacrifices of men and women in our nation's wars.

Last April, we rededicated Memorial Stadium in grateful recognition of those who died in service to their country in World War I.

In 1923, the same year this stadium was built, Willa Cather won the Pulitzer Prize for her novel, One of Ours, a story about Claude Wheeler, a soldier who was killed in battle during World War I. The novel was based on Cather's cousin from Bladen, Neb., a young man who loved his home state and his country. Cather chose to memorialize her cousin through a novel; the citizens of this state chose to honor its veterans with this stadium, a lasting tribute, visible every day since it was built.

In her book Cather writes that Claude died for a country he thought was better than it was. We owe those soldiers our best efforts at making this country as good as it can be. Not just on Veterans Day or Memorial Day or Armed Forces Day, but every day.

That is the purpose of Memorial Stadium to remember, to honor, to celebrate and to appreciate the freedoms that were fought on our behalf.

Solich Links Past, Present and Future

By Mike Babcock, Freelance Writer

During a news conference three weeks ago, before the start of two-a-day practices, Frank Solich was asked if he had considered his first offensive series as Nebraska's head coach.

Yes, he replied. He had thought about the first series.

"I've been debating on whether to go deep that first play," he said.

His response elicited laughter.

"Seriously," he said.

Even so, the answer expressed a good deal about Solich and the way in which he plans to run the program entrusted to him by Tom Osborne, and carried down from Bob Devaney.

The 53-year-old Solich represents stability and continuity. He's a link to the past, both recent and not so recent, yet his focus is the future. His coaching philosophy has been shaped by Devaney, for whom he played, as well as by Osborne, for whom he was an assistant for 19 seasons.

Nevertheless, he will put his signature on the program. "You can't completely get away from it, what's happened in the past, because it's what's made this program what it is," he said.

"But yet, I also know you can't dwell on any of that stuff."

Though it seems a contradiction in terms, he must keep the program moving ahead in order to maintain the status quo. "You focus on the things you need to focus on to move forward," he said.

Solich carries the considerable burden of 36 consecutive winning seasons, including five in which the Cornhuskers have earned national championships. He is reminded of that tradition each time he walks through the tunnel leading from the varsity locker room to Tom Osborne Field.

The walls of the tunnel are decorated with the records of every Nebraska team since 1962, Devaney's first as head coach. "So it's pretty tough to walk out there to that practice field and not know exactly what you're walking by in terms of number of wins, in terms of what teams have done, what coaches have done here in this program," said Solich. "It's a little bit of a weight on a guy's shoulders."

A little bit? Devaney's record in 11 seasons was 101-20-2, a winning percentage of .829. Osborne's record in 25 seasons was even better: 255-49-3, a winning percentage of .836.

Plus, the Huskers have won three national championships in the last four seasons, something only one other major college program has accomplished since The Associated Press established its national rankings in 1936. Notre Dame was the champion in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Nebraska's record over the past five seasons has been 60-3, or about as close to perfection as a program could hope to be. As a result, "there's no question there's a tremendous challenge ahead of me and the rest of the staff," Solich said. "But that's the way it goes. Nothing's easy."

Solich speaks from experience, beginning with his recruitment by Devaney out of high school in Cleveland, Ohio. His choices were limited. He considered Iowa State, Northwestern, Kent State and the Naval Academy, as well as Notre Dame, which offered him a partial scholarship.

But Notre Dame wasn't interested in Mike Worley, his friend and high school teammate, so Solich scratched the Fighting Irish. He and Worley had talked about going to the same school. And besides, after visiting the Notre Dame campus, "I could tell I wasn't one of their top recruits," said Solich.

Nebraska, on the other hand, initially was interested in Worley but not Solich.

George Kelly, a Devaney assistant, first talked with Solich about coming to Nebraska after seeing him play during a trip to watch Worley. Scholarship limits were considerably more generous in 1962, and the Cornhuskers figured they could take a chance on Solich as a kick returner if nothing else.

The decision was relatively easy for Solich: a full scholarship and the opportunity to go to the same school as Worley. "It wasn't like now, going to Nebraska because of its reputation. That wasn't a major factor," Solich has said. "I was in a situation where a lot of schools questioned my size."

"They weren't exactly beating down my door. We were limited, to some extent."

Ah yes, Solich's size. He might not have come to Nebraska if not for that. He probably would have gone to Ohio State had he been bigger, because in the early 1960s, that's where all of the best high school football players in Ohio went -- providing the Buckeyes considered them big enough.

But they weren't interested "if you weren't a 200-pound back," said Solich, who played tailback in high school. "They had a lot of people to pick from. I just didn't have the size to play there."

Solich weighed less than 160 pounds when he arrived at Nebraska.

Osborne, an unpaid graduate assistant at the time, once recalled in jest: "I thought, 'If we're not recruiting guys any bigger than these two, we're never going to win a game.'"

Worley, a fullback, weighed 200 pounds, but like Solich, he was only 5-foot-8.

Both made up for their lack of size with toughness. Solich had to be tough in order to play fullback at 5-foot-8 and 158 pounds -- his official height and weight as a senior in 1965.

Following Nebraska's 39-28 loss against Alabama in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, Hall of Fame coach Paul "Bear" Bryant crossed the field to shake hands with Solich, who had been sidelined most of the second half because of an ankle injury. Such was the respect he earned.

Solich, who returned a kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown against Oklahoma State in 1964, also was a big-play threat at fullback, which seems a curious position now because of his size. But the Huskers often ran out of a spread formation, in which the fullback was more like a halfback, running "a lot of draws, a lot of spread options, quick-hitting plays," Solich said.

His proficiency at that was apparent in a 27-17 victory at the Air Force Academy in 1965. On the first play from scrimmage, he bolted 80 yards for a touchdown. He would score two more touchdowns by game's end and rush for 204 yards, a school record that would hold until 1976.

Solich is well down Nebraska's single-game rushing list now. And he has coached most of those ahead of him, either when he was the

As a player, Solich rushed for a then-school record 204 yards and three touchdowns against Air Force in 1965. Solich still shares the school record for most touchdowns in a game by a fullback, tying current Husker fullback Joel Makovicka.

of Huskers' Winning Tradition

Huskers' freshman coach or after he became the running backs coach in 1983, following the retirement of Mike Corgan, who came with Devaney from Wyoming.

Solich didn't consider becoming a coach while he was playing. "I never thought that much ahead," he has said. "But later in my career, I started looking more at the coaching aspect."

The fall after he finished his degree, he became the head coach at Omaha Holy Name High School. And after two years there, at the urging of his wife Pam, he moved to Lincoln Southeast.

At age 23, he was the youngest football coach in Class A.

Although he applied for the head coaching job at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, he was content with being a successful high school coach. Then Osborne contacted him in 1979, and again with the encouragement and support from Pam, he moved to the next level.

Solich was long rumored to be the most likely to succeed Osborne. He was given the title of assistant head coach in 1991, after turning down an opportunity to become assistant head coach and offensive coordinator for former Cornhusker teammate Barry Alvarez at Wisconsin.

"There are a few jobs I looked at over the course of the years that I've been here at the University of Nebraska, maybe only one, possibly two, seriously," Solich said during a news conference the day he was named to succeed Osborne last December. "(But) my heart has always been here.

"I did feel that I wanted to be a head coach. I wanted to run a program. At some point in time, if it worked out that I would be able to run this program, great. That's something I would be definitely interested in. But if it didn't work out in that regard, that was fine, too.

"I could have spent the rest of my career under Coach Osborne and be totally happy."

Osborne's concern was for continuity in the program, and Solich certainly represents that. He sees himself as a "little bit of a mixture" of Osborne and Devaney. "I guess I'm a lot like Tom in that I'm a very serious type of person at times," Solich said. "My wife would tell you that maybe too often I'm too serious. But, on the other side of it, that's kind of how I've been able to get things done."

His serious side and competitive nature are reflected in an anecdote that is beginning to wear thin. However, no personality profile of Nebraska's new head coach would be complete without a recounting of the story, which even made the pages of Sports Illustrated more than 30 years ago.

Dan Jenkins wrote about it, in an issue that featured Solich on the cover.

In the late summer of 1964, Solich and his Husker teammates reported for preseason physicals at Schulte Fieldhouse. Solich, a junior, was among the team's smallest players. He weighed 157 pounds at the time, or about the same size as Larry Wachholtz, a sophomore from North Platte.

Solich was determined not to be the lightest, so at the urging and with the help of trainer Paul Schneider, who wasn't averse to a practical joke now and then, he taped five pounds of weights to his waist. The weights were hidden beneath his sweatshorts and an extra-large, gray T-shirt.

Solich reached the front of the line and stepped on the scales, which read: 162 pounds.

He was still one pound light. Wachholtz weighed in at 163 pounds.

"I hate to talk about it, actually," Solich has said more than once.

About that same time, Solich took an educational psychology class, in which he tried to maintain a low profile. At least that's how he remembers it. "I was probably sitting in the back of the room, trying to hide most of the time," he has said, laughing as he recounted the experience.

The young instructor in the class was enthusiastic, and he knew his stuff.

But "I don't remember him being exceptionally tough," Solich with a smile.

The instructor to whom he referred was Osborne.

The student has replaced the teacher now. And there is no reason to think he won't be up to the task. "You can throw me out of the equation," Solich said. "But this staff and this group of players, I think, are maybe as well-prepared as anybody to be able to continue this program's rich tradition."

That's true, except for the part about throwing him out of the equation.

Solich is an integral element of the equation, the constant.

Whether intentional or not, his comment about going deep on the first play against Louisiana Tech shows an appreciation for the past.

Devaney claimed that his first play against South Dakota in the opening game in 1962 was a pass, which drew a standing ovation even though it was incomplete.

The comment also shows a commitment to move forward. Nebraska became the nation's best big-play running team under Osborne. And that is bound to continue under Solich.

But the Husker offense will be uniquely his.

He just might go deep on that first play. Then again, "Louisiana Tech is not against blitzing, and certainly, you don't want to have a second-and-16 call after that first play," he said.

"But yet, a touchdown would be nice. We'll see."

For the record, the first play in Osborne's first game as head coach against UCLA in 1973 was a 1-yard run up the middle, even though he was much more inclined to pass back then.

Osborne maintained the tradition but he was his own coach. And so it will be with Solich, who won't be another Osborne, just as Osborne wasn't another Devaney.

An assistant coach at Nebraska for the past 19 seasons, Solich was named Assistant Coach of the Year by Athlon magazine before the start of the 1993 season.

Dedicated to Excellence

The University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, as an integral part of the University's educational mission, is committed to a comprehensive athletics program, Dedicated to Excellence.

Bill Byrne

University of Nebraska Director of Athletics

In his sixth year at Nebraska, Bill Byrne continues to lead and improve one of the nation's best athletic programs. Byrne became the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics on June 26, 1992, replacing the legendary Bob Devaney.

He came to Nebraska following 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association. He is a member of the NCAA Legislative Strategic Planning Cabinet and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events. He has worked tirelessly to establish close ties with the NU community and Husker fans. Byrne has canvassed the state visiting with boosters to learn the needs of all Husker fans.

Among his many accomplishments at Nebraska, Byrne has continually upgraded facilities, including the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards at Memorial Stadium in 1994. Besides becoming the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans, Memorial Stadium was renovated to include a state-of-the-art training room, expanded locker rooms for coaches and players, a new public address system, expanded restrooms and expanded concession areas. Section 14 was rebuilt in 1994 to offer increased seating for disabled fans.

Byrne's future plans ensure that NU's facilities will remain the nation's best for Husker athletes and fans. He enlisted the Kansas City, Mo., firm of HOK Sports to develop a master facilities plan for the athletic program. A new press box and sky boxes are part of the renovation plans for Memorial Stadium, along with an expanded main concourse area. The East Stadium Plaza is being developed, while waterproofing and concrete repair continues throughout the stadium. The $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Bob Devaney Sports Center will begin, while the Ed Weir Outdoor Track will be resurfaced. The Abbott Sports Complex also will receive a new press facility for women's soccer.

In 1997-98, the Devaney Center received a new locker room for women's staff, a new roof over the pool area and a remodeled central concessions area. The NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza, while a new volleyball ready room was constructed in the NU Coliseum. A new shooting range was devised for the women's rifle team in the Military and Naval Science Building. The Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the new Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. In 1996-97, the Devaney Center received a new sound system, new weight room, new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator, and Buck Beltzer Stadium received new infield turf. The computer center in the Boekel Academic Center also tripled in size.

Byrne's leadership has kept the Huskers among the nation's elite. In fact, during the 1997-98 season, Nebraska:

- ◆ became only the second school in NCAA history to win three football national championships in a four-year span.
- ◆ recorded its fourth consecutive top-10 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings, with a ninth-place showing in Division I, the best showing of any Big 12 Conference school.
- ◆ won six Big 12 championships (football, women's swimming, women's gymnastics, softball, men's indoor and outdoor track).
- ◆ finished in the top 10 nationally in seven sports (men's: football, gymnastics; women's: softball, volleyball, soccer, outdoor track and bowling).
- ◆ won its 19th consecutive conference all-sports crown.

With Byrne's leadership, Nebraska became the first Big Eight school to add women's soccer as a varsity sport in 1994. Byrne continues to expand opportunities for Husker athletes. During 1997-98, women's bowling was added as a varsity sport, and women's riflery will begin for the 1998-99 season, giving the Huskers 24 sports, the most in the Big 12.

Along with maintaining the highest standards on the field, Byrne has reorganized the department for the 21st century. Stressing more efficient use of resources, Byrne has created a one-stop shopping type of organization to meet the needs of student-athletes, fans and contributors. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in intercollegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort to help place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. He was recently chosen to serve as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has been instrumental in conference development and an active voice in its planning.

In conjunction with the rest of Nebraska's administration, Byrne has arranged to use the Husker football and basketball networks to promote causes and concerns important to the entire university community, including the institution's increased role in research.

Before bringing his expertise to Nebraska, Byrne was the Oregon Director of Athletics. He assumed the duties of director of athletics in May of 1984 as one of the youngest directors in Division I. Byrne established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and established a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks' games on radio and television.

Byrne led the $19 million fund drive at Oregon that resulted in new homes for the Ducks' football team and athletic department offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium, which concluded in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne has served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 1991-92, and is in his seventh year on the NACDA Executive Committee. He was also chairman of the Pac-10 Conference Executive Committee and was the National Athletic Fundraisers Association National Fundraiser of the Year.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was Assistant Athletic Director at San Diego State (1980-82), Executive Director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and Director of Alumni Relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the Dean of Graduate Studies in Education at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 3, and Davis, 1, live in Eugene, Ore., where Greg is an athletic fundraiser for the University of Oregon. Bill and Marilyn's other son, Bill, is a section manager for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Frank Solich

Head Coach First Season

For the past three decades the Nebraska football program has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for the last quarter century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability is the primary reason that on Dec. 10, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Frank Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 108 years of football tradition. Solich follows the Nebraska model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich has been Osborne's heir-apparent for several seasons.

Solich is a veteran of the Nebraska football program. He served on Osborne's staff for the past 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for the past 15 years as running backs coach. The last seven years, Solich has had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne said Solich's experience under Osborne made him a natural choice as the next head football coach.

"Frank Solich is an excellent coach and recruiter who has been courted by many schools across the nation," Byrne said. "One of the things you look for in a head football coach is leadership. But the thing I think that sets Frank apart is not only the leadership he has, but the genuine respect that our coaches and our staff and that our athletes have for him.

"I have every confidence that Frank will continue the success that the Husker football team has enjoyed for so many years. Promoting Frank allows us to maintain the continuity and stability of the program, which is exactly what every school in the country is striving to attain."

The 53-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. Nebraska led the nation in rushing in nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, Nebraska churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

Last season, Nebraska collected its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6 yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green, who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single season in school history, and 22 touchdowns, and capped his season with an Orange Bowl-record 206-yard performance against Tennessee. Green opted to turn pro after his junior season, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in Nebraska history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker I-backs. However, it is not just the I-back position that makes the Nebraska running game strong. Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last 30 years, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play was never stronger than in 1997, when junior Joel Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the Husker fullback record with nine touchdowns.

In 1996, Solich had a stable of running backs who combined for more than 2,000 yards despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green is just the latest in a long line of running backs who have earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 28 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other eight himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four career rushers.

Rulebook Headaches YOU BE THE REF!

The rare play, quirky bounce or bizarre situation can give college football referees instant headaches, especially since they are expected to make immediate decisions during the heat of battle. Under the gun, could you make the right call? Touchdown Illustrated gives you the whistle. Below are rulebook headaches designed to test your knowledge of the game. YOU BE THE REF!

Headache #1

Ohio State vs. Northwestern. Buckeyes' running back Michael Wiley takes a hand-off from Joe Germaine and rushes ahead for three yards. Spotting trouble, Wiley laterals back to Germaine, who remained behind the line of scrimmage. Germaine then hits a wide open David Boston with a long pass, which he takes into the end zone.

You're the ref: What happens next?

Answer:

This is an illegal forward pass according to Rule 7, Section 3, Article 2-f, which states that once the ball has crossed the neutral zone, even if the ball is returned to the neutral zone, a forward pass is illegal. The penalty is five yards, which is assessed from the spot of the foul with a loss of down.

Headache #2

Virginia Tech vs. West Virginia. With time running down, Mountaineers' quarterback Marc Bulger, hoping to regroup and come up with one last play before time expires, takes the snap from center Eric de Groh, drops back, turns and throws a backward pass out of bounds to stop the clock.

You're the ref: What happens next?

Answer:

According to Rule 7, Section 2, Article 1, attempting to conserve time with a backward pass out of bounds is illegal, and since the play occurred behind the neutral zone, there is a five-yard penalty from the spot of the foul and loss of the down.

Headache #4

Purdue vs. Notre Dame. With the game winding down, but time still remaining, Fighting Irish receiver Malcolm Johnson hauls in a 25-yard Jarious Jackson pass for a touchdown. Elated with the score, and with Irish fans going wild, Johnson throws the ball into the bleachers to a fan for a souvenir.

You're the ref: What happens next?

Answer:

Since time still remained, according to Rule 9, Section 2, Article 1-a-2, any time a player does not return the ball immediately to an official or forces the official to go any distance to retrieve the ball, a dead-ball foul results. There is a 15-yard penalty from the succeeding spot (in this case from the 35-yard line on the kickoff). Players who do this flagrantly shall be disqualified.

Headache #3

Arizona State vs. Arizona. Sun Devils' quarterback Ryan Kealy fires a pass that sails 20 yards over tailback J.R. Redmond's head, but in the meantime, Arizona safety LaChaux Rich runs into the receiver in effort to prevent him from catching the obviously uncatchable ball.

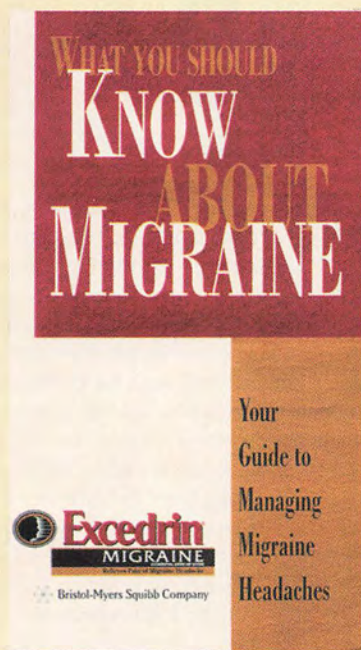

You're the ref: What happens next?

Answer:

According to Rule 9, Section 1, Article 2-f, "No player shall run into a receiver when a forward pass to him obviously is not catchable. This is a personal foul and not pass interference." This results in a 15-yard penalty from the point of contact and a first down for Arizona. Flagrant offenders shall be disqualified.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 25 years. Osborne won 255 games in the last 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 19 years have posted an amazing 200-33-1 record, for an .861 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years on the NU staff, the Huskers have captured three national championships, all while Solich has been assistant head coach. In the same period, Solich has been on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams who finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team. He held the NU single-game rushing record (204 yards against Air Force in 1965) for 10 years and ranks 43rd on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich still holds the Orange Bowl record for return yards with 166 in 1966.

The Husker teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 36 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School, where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic honors. He received his bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha, Neb., in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two seasons and the 1967 team was state runnerup. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knight program, Southeast teams compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years. His Southeast teams captured back-to-back Class A state titles in 1977 and 1978. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boys' prep coach-of-the-year in 1978. A number of Solich's players at Southeast moved across town to play for Nebraska.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the Husker freshmen that stretched to the 1984 season. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solich-coached back came in the 1983 season, when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska has consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In DuBose's absence, Keith Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 touchdowns and averaging a whopping 7.3 yards per carry.

The Solich I-back assembly line continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the Husker career rushing list with 3,037 yards.

After one season without an all-conference back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs as a sophomore and earned first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman-of-the-Year after rushing for 900 yards, including a Nebraska single-game record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-conference honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 touchdowns and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national championship. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at Nebraska. He also captured the Big Eight rushing title his final two seasons in Lincoln, the fourth player to wear that crown under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Calvin Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomore-record 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy balloting, the highest for a Nebraska player in 10 seasons.

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Green, who set the Husker frosh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

Solich Profile

Years at Nebraska: Solich is beginning his first season as head coach, his 20th overall on the Nebraska coaching staff. He served the past 15 years as Nebraska's running backs coach after four seasons as the Husker head freshman coach. He was promoted to assistant head coach in 1991 and held that position for each of the last seven seasons. Nebraska's record in Solich's 19 years on staff is 200-33-1 (.861). He was named head coach by Director of Athletics Bill Byrne on Dec. 10, 1997, the same day Tom Osborne announced his retirement.

Solich's Basic Coaching Philosophy

"It's important to me as a coach to help players develop to the best of their abilities and to have them understand their responsibilities as a student-athlete. In doing so, you're helping them to grow and mature as a complete person and to prepare themselves for the future."

"How do you replace arguably the greatest coach of all time in college football? You get the next greatest coach in college football in Coach Solich.

I've had the privilege to be under Coach Solich the past few years, and he has instilled the same thing Coach Osborne has instilled in all the players, that is the work ethic and the values."

Joel Makovicka
Nebraska Senior Fullback

In his 19 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of Nebraska's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to the Heartland. Several players Solich recruited to Nebraska have gone on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman.

His ability to bring top talent to Lincoln was evident in his first recruiting class as head coach. Nebraska's incoming class was generally regarded as one of the nation's best and included 10 prep All-Americans and players from eight different states, in addition to Canada.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. Since 1983, Solich has been the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,500 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983 the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 1998 clinic attracted more than 1,200 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He has represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff (wife, Chara). Cindy and her husband, John Dalton, have a 3-year-old daughter, Catherine, and a 1-year-old son, Aaron.

Tom Osborne

255-49-3 in 25 Years as NU Head Coach

The words were inscribed on Memorial Stadium's northwest corner some 14 years before he was born: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sports." How fitting then, that the field inside that historic stadium is now called Tom Osborne Field, in honor of a man who, in 25 seasons on the Husker sideline, built a total program based on more than just winning.

Osborne's era of excellence came to an end on Dec. 10, 1997, when he announced he would step aside as Nebraska's head coach. His career ended in fitting fashion in the 1998 Orange Bowl. In his final game as head coach, Osborne's Huskers dismantled third-ranked Tennessee, 42-17, giving him a share of a third national title in his last four seasons. The victory left Osborne as the first man in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion coach.

Winning football games was never a problem for Osborne, but it was far from his only source of motivation. He retired as the nation's winningest active coach by percentage, with a glossy 255-49-3 record, for an .836 winning percentage, a mark that is fifth all-time among Division I coaches. Osborne cemented his place alongside the sport's coaching legends in the last five years, guiding the Huskers to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995, then capping his career by sharing the 1997 title with Michigan. Nebraska's back-to-back national titles in 1994-95 made Osborne the first coach to accomplish that feat since Bear Bryant led Alabama to titles in 1978-79. Under Osborne, NU became just the second school all-time and the first since Oklahoma in 1955-56 to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons. In fact, Osborne's last five Nebraska teams put together the best five-year run in collegiate football history with an amazing 60-3 record, including five consecutive 11-win seasons.

Osborne-coached Nebraska teams captured 13 conference crowns, including six in his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went bowling, while 15 won 10 or more games. Achievements of that magnitude earned Osborne an immediate ticket to the College Football Hall of Fame, waiving the customary three-year wait for entrance into the hall. His legendary career also prompted the University's Board of Regents to vote to name the Memorial Stadium playing field in Osborne's honor.

On and off the field, Osborne's players have consistently been highly honored. Nine of his proteges have received the NCAA's highest honor for student-athletes—selection as one of Today's Top Eight—including 1997 recipient Grant Wistrom. That's the most for any individual sports program in the country and accounts for more than two-thirds of NU's nation-leading 13 total selections. Husker gridders who received the honor include guard Randy Schleusener (1981), centers Dave Rimington (1983), Mark Traynowicz (1985) and Jake Young (1990), linebackers Pat Tyrance (1991) and Trev Alberts (1993), and offensive linemen Rob Zatechka (1994) and Aaron Graham (1995).

In 1997, Wistrom was named a first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American for the second straight year and junior fullback Joel Makovicka joined him on the team to boost the Huskers' total to 36 student-athletes. That figure includes 10 two-time picks for a total of 46 first-team academic All-America certificates under Osborne and a nation-leading 52 in school history.

In fact, Osborne's total of 46 first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans is eight more than second-place Notre Dame's 44-year total of 38 (since CoSIDA began honoring athletes in 1952). Osborne's most-honored academian was 1994 Top Eight Award winner and first-team academic All-American Rob Zatechka. In addition to his first-team selection, Zatechka, who was Osborne's first student-athlete to graduate with a cumulative 4.0 grade-point average, was honored as the GTE/CoSIDA Football Academic All-American-of-the-Year and earned the National Football Foundation's Draddy Award as the nation's top football scholar-athlete, the Woody Hayes National Scholar-Athlete Award and the NCAA's Walter Byers Award.

Nebraska has also had 25 NCAA postgraduate scholarship winners and 16 National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete recipients, including Zatechka in 1994.

The honors don't end in the classroom. Husker players have also been decorated for their on-field performances. In 1997, Wistrom became the third Lombardi Award winner under Osborne. In addition, offensive guard Aaron Taylor edged NU defensive tackle Jason Peter for the Outland Trophy, the sixth Outland under Osborne. In 1995, quarterback Tommie Frazier won the school's first Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award and was the Heisman runner-up. The previous year, Zach Wiegert brought home the fifth Outland Trophy in Osborne's head coaching career and the seventh in school history. In 1993, Trev Alberts became the first player in Nebraska history to earn the Butkus Award, given annually to the nation's top collegiate linebacker.

In 1992, Will Shields continued the streak of award-winning excellence by winning the Outland Trophy. The Huskers made history under Osborne by producing three consecutive Outland Trophy winners (Dave Rimington in 1981 and 1982, and Dean Steinkuhler in 1983) and two consecutive Lombardi Award winners (Rimington in 1982 and Steinkuhler in 1983), while also winning the 1983 Heisman Trophy (Mike Rozier).

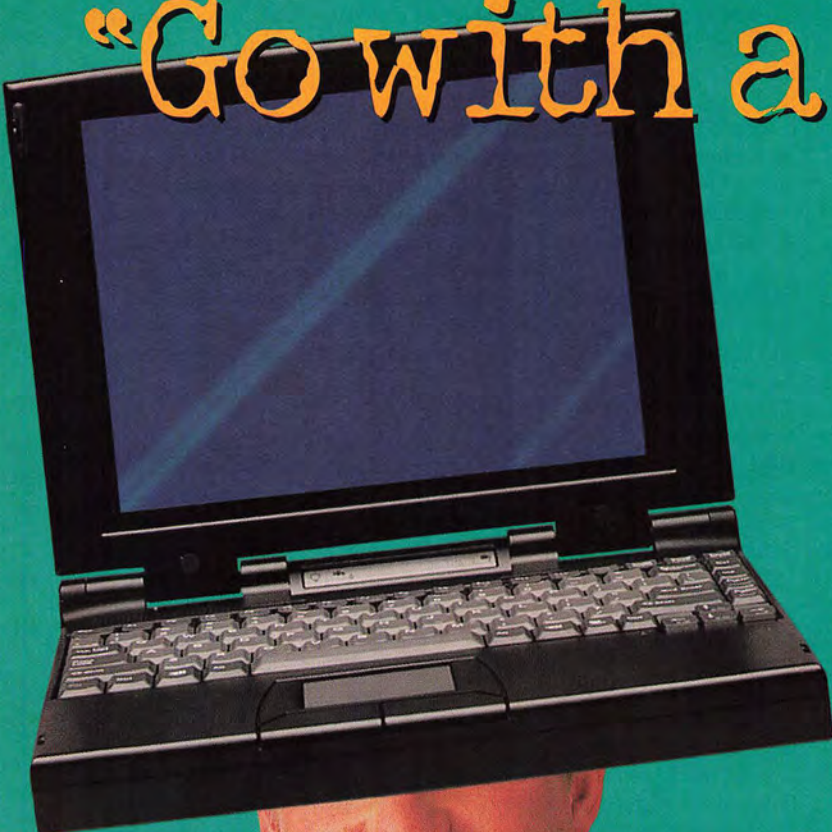

During Osborne's career, 47 players earned All-America honors, including eight two-time All-Americans for a total of 55 selections. In 1997, Wistrom and Taylor became two-time honorees, while Peter received his first All-America award. Nebraska has had 42 consensus All-America picks.

Dad always said, "Go with a winner!"

I can hear him now. "Son, to succeed you've got to find a winner. And ride that sucker straight to the top."

Well, for my money, that's CTX. An international computer products manufacturer with over 12 years experience and nearly a billion dollars in annual sales. (He'd really like that part.)

He'd also like their low prices and huge selection, which includes high-quality CRT displays. Leading-edge LCD monitors and projectors. Award-winning notebooks. And powerful desktops. "Get more than you pay for" was his motto. And with CTX, I always do.

So go with a sure thing. CTX. And who knows? Maybe someday, they'll plaster your face up all over the office. 800-888-2120

COMMITTED TO XCELLENCE™

Nowhere is the consistency of the Husker program more evident than the national polls, where Nebraska was a fixture in each of Osborne's 25 seasons. Nebraska has been ranked in every weekly AP poll since 1981, giving it a poll-record 275 consecutive weeks in the rankings. In Osborne's tenure, NU was ranked in 397 of 400 AP polls, missing one week in 1977 and two in 1981. Nebraska finished among the AP Top 25 every year under Osborne, including 18 Top 10 finishes and 24 Top 20 showings. The Huskers were ranked in the top 10 in the final 87 polls under Osborne, also an NCAA best.

In fact, a study of the final AP polls from 1973 through the 1997 season finds that Nebraska is the nation's most successful program based on rankings. Using a point system of 20 for first, 19 for second, etc., the Huskers scored 330 points to outdistance second-place Michigan's 278 points.

In 25 seasons, Osborne's Huskers posted an impressive 61-37-1 (.621) record against ranked AP teams, easily the best record for a Nebraska mentor. Over the last five seasons, the Huskers were 20-2 against ranked foes, losing only to No. 1-ranked Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl and No. 17 Arizona State in 1996. Osborne is also the only Husker coach to ever beat a No. 1-ranked team—the 17-14 win over Oklahoma in 1978. His Hall of Fame predecessor, Bob Devaney, was 12-12-2 against ranked teams during his Husker career, while all previous NU coaches were a combined 7-35-0.

Beyond the remarkable on-field success story his Husker teams have written in America's heartland, Osborne was committed to making a difference in the lives of his players, staff and the community in which he lives.

A Hastings, Neb., native, Osborne may be the state's best ambassador. He is an advocate of NCAA reform on behalf of all student-athletes, an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and supports many area youth education programs. He led by example and taught his players that life is more than just a 60-minute football game on an autumn afternoon.

Over the last six years, a Big 12-leading 63 percent of Osborne's players left Nebraska with their degrees in hand. His program led the nation in virtually every academic honor available to student-athletes. In short, he built a model Division I-A program, one that combines academic excellence with outstanding play on the field and one that has been passed on at its peak to Osborne's successor, Frank Solich.

Osborne's dedication to the academic community will continue this fall. He is scheduled to teach two courses at UNL—Athletic Coaching 312, "Coaching of Football," and Educational Administration 966A, "Sport in American University." The first is an undergraduate course for students preparing to be high school coaches and the second is for graduate students in the higher education administration program.

In the community, Coach Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have developed a special program for area youths. The Husker Teammates program matches Nebraska football players and mentors in the community with local junior high school students in a big brother/big sister relationship.

Financing for the Husker Teammates program comes from The Osborne Endowment for Youth. The fund, underwritten by the coach and his wife and established seven years ago, helps prevent junior high and middle school youths from dropping out of school and encourages them to continue their education beyond high school. At a 1994 banquet honoring Coach Osborne for his 200th career victory, more than $250,000 was raised for the endowment. This is a tribute not only to Osborne's on-the-field achievements, but also to his desire to make the community a better place to live.

In the spring of 1997, Osborne put his support behind a new program, The Osborne Legacy Project. The program is a two-year, $15 million fund-raising effort by Hastings College, Osborne's alma mater, aimed at improving Hastings' athletic facilities and developing a scholarship program. The campaign is a tribute to the Osborne family's history of involvement with the college.

He also encourages his players to give back to the community, evidenced by the more than 80,000 students his players reach on an annual basis through community outreach activities.

For his efforts on behalf of student-athletes and his work in the community, Osborne was selected as one of eight 1994 Giant Steps Award winners from around the nation by the Northeastern University Center for the Study of Sport in Society. The awards are given annually on National Student-Athlete Day to individuals and/or organizations who exemplify the ideals and provide the support necessary for student-athletes to achieve academic and athletic excellence. Osborne also received the 1995 National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Distinguished American Award.

In addition to those honors, Coach Osborne and Nancy received the 1995 Father Flanagan Award for Service to Youth. The Father Flanagan Award is given in memory of the Boys Town founder and recognizes those whose service to youth is exemplary.

An outstanding high school athlete at Hastings High School in the mid-1950s, Osborne was named Nebraska Prep Athlete-of-the-Year, then passed up major-college scholarship offers to attend the school from which his father and grandfather graduated before him, hometown Hastings College. He became a star quarterback and basketball player for Coach Tom McLaughlin, and in 1959 was named State College Athlete-of-the-Year, becoming the first athlete in Nebraska history to win both the high school and college honors.

After receiving his bachelor's degree from Hastings College in 1959, Osborne played three seasons in the National Football League, two with the Washington Redskins and one with the San Francisco 49ers, where his roommate was Jack Kemp, the former Congressman, presidential candidate and Bush administration Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

In 1962, he contacted the newly hired Devaney and obtained a graduate assistant's position on the Husker staff. He continued in that capacity until he received his master's degree in 1963, then maintained a triple role of student, teacher and part-time coach at the University. He earned a doctorate in educational psychology in 1965, then elected to pursue coaching as a career in 1967, becoming the Huskers' full-time receivers coach—a decision NU fans have applauded since.

Over the next five years, Osborne was in charge of the Husker passing game, and in his last four seasons as an assistant coach, developed a wingback by the name of Johnny Rodgers, who would become Nebraska's first Heisman Trophy winner in 1972.

When Devaney announced after the 1972 Orange Bowl that he would retire from coaching after the 1972 season, he elevated Osborne to assistant head coach and director of recruiting for his final campaign, and handpicked the then-34-year-old as his successor.

Osborne took over a program that regained national prominence under Devaney, built on it and established his own winning tradition. Osborne and Devaney are one of just three coaching duos to post back-to-back 100-win careers at the same institution (following Penn State's Rip Engle and Joe Paterno and Georgia Tech's John Heisman, Bill Alexander and Bobby Dodd), but the first pair to do it in an astounding 22 years. Since 1962, NU owns a 356-69-5 record for an incredible .834 winning percentage (36 years, 430 games).

Osborne, who was born Feb. 23, 1937, is married to the former Nancy Tederman. They are the parents of a son, Mike, and two daughters, Ann and Suzi. Tom and Nancy have one grandson, William Osborne, and two granddaughters, Catey Osborne and Haley Wilke. Mike followed in his father's footsteps by playing quarterback at Hastings College, graduating in May, 1987.

Building on a Tradition of Excellence

The George W. Beadle Center, a state-of-the-art facility for biotechnology research, is the newest addition to the University of Nebraska skyline. Below, "Torn Notebook" adds another element to a campus known for its outdoor sculpture collection.

For nearly 130 years, the University of Nebraska has been the leading institution of higher education in the state. With more than 22,000 current students and about 190,000 graduates, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the largest campus in the university system. While dedicated to providing the best educational experience for its students, the university is also committed to serving the citizens of the state with a variety of outreach programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. It was the first college west of the Mississippi River to confer graduate degrees. As the university system's most comprehensive entity, the Lincoln campus includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The university is a Carnegie Foundation Research Institution I, a member of the American Association of Universities and has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools since 1913.

The university offers 36 doctoral programs, 63 master's degree programs and five six-year specialist degree programs. The College of Law has a professional degree program and jointly administers with the Graduate College eight programs that combine a master's or doctoral degree with a law degree. Nine undergraduate colleges (Agriculture and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Mass Communications, and Teachers) offer more than 120 baccalaureate degree programs in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the university's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and university alumnus.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offer alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs including summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes.

The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Memorial Stadium – Tom Osborne Field

Nebraska's NCAA Sellout Record Continues to Grow

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and reached 220 with six home sellouts in 1997. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 1988, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 76,342 fans for six home games, breaking the old record average of 76,341 set in 1974.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

The Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium has a seating capacity of 72,700 and attendance has averaged over 75,000 for the past 25 years. Nebraska has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The Stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas. Inscribed on the four corners of Memorial Stadium is the following:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, two major projects were completed in 1984 and 1985. A new artificial turf was installed in 1984 and the new million-dollar Hewit Center training table/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive new strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992.

Here is the chronological order of Memorial Stadium expansion and improvement from the original 31,000-seat structure built in 1923:

1946--Completion of Schulte Field House at north end of stadium (construction began in 1941, but was interrupted by World War II)

1964--South end zone section installed, making the stadium a horseshoe, raising capacity to the 48,000 mark

1965--Center portion of north end zone section added, raising capacity to more than 53,000

1966--Both wings of the north end zone added, raising capacity to more than 65,000 and making Memorial Stadium into a bowl

1967--New press box, with guest section added, providing a beautiful and practical press facility

1970--Installation of AstroTurf

1972--South end zone extended, 9,400 seats added, raising capacity to 73,650

1973--Athletic office building completed, housing dressing and training facilities for varsity football

1977--Installation of new AstroTurf replacing the 1970 turf, and a new scoreboard over the north stadium

1980--Completed top deck of press box for additional photo and visiting radio TV space

1981--New west stadium weight room and new visitor's locker room in Schulte Field House

1982--Expansion of Schulte Field House indoor practice area

1984--New artificial All-Pro Turf playing surface installed

1985--Completion of Hewit Center (dining area/study hall) in West Stadium

1989--Expansion of strength complex and Hewit Center

1992--New AstroTurf-8 artificial turf installed

1994--Installation of Mitsubishi Instant Replay boards and remodeling of Section 14 to accomodate disabled, reduced seating to 72,700

1995--South Stadium training room remodeled and new interview room and player lounge completed during season

1997--Progress continued after the 1997 season on the $36 million Stadium Improvement project which will include 42 skyboxes, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, new press box and renovated concourses. The entire project will be completed before the 1999 season. Before the 1997 season, the east concourse was renovated with new restrooms and concessions and the stadium lights were installed on the east side.

1998--Stadium was rededicated and the football field was named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne, who retired as the winningest active coach in college football, with a 255-49-3 career record.

Huskers Boast Impressive Record in 75 Years at Memorial Stadium

Nebraska football teams for the past 75 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 305-98-13 (.749) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 35-12-3 all time under the lights, including 7-1-0 at home.

Nebraska's NCAA-record sellout streak reached 220 games in 1997. The Huskers have sold out every home game since November 3, 1962, Bob Devaney's first season as head coach.

1998-99 Husker Women's Swimming

Head Coach: Cal Bentz (seventh season)

1997-98 Record: 10-0

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 21/5

All-Americans Returning/Lost: 10/3

After winning five consecutive conference crowns, including the last two Big 12 titles, and finishing in the top 10 at the NCAA Championships in three of the past four seasons, the Nebraska women's swimming and diving team has established itself as a team that belongs in the national spotlight. What remains for upcoming seasons is the opportunity to emerge among the top five teams in the country, which according to Head Coach Cal Bentz, is not out of the question.

"With the caliber of talent that we have on this team, the potential is almost endless," Bentz said. "We have established Nebraska as a power among collegiate swimming and diving, and I think we can take it to another level this year."

The Huskers return 10 All-Americans and eight Big 12 Champions for the 1998-99 season, headlined by a pair of sophomores coming off sensational freshmen campaigns. Last year, Omaha native Shandra Johnson took the Big 12 by storm, shattering four conference records en route to being named Big 12 Outstanding Performer and Newcomer-of-the-Year. Johnson set league marks by winning the 500-yard freestyle (4:43.48), the 200-yard freestyle (1:46.53), the 200-yard backstroke (1:58.35) and competing on NU's 800-yard freestyle relay (7:12.70). Johnson anchored the 800-free relay at the NCAA Championships, which finished just one tenth of a second behind Arizona for second place and All-America honors.

Fellow sophomore Therese Alshammar of Sweden began her career as a Husker last season, but was already established as one of the world's top sprint freestylers. Alshammar set three school records at the Big 12 Championships, finishing third in the 50-yard freestyle (22.60) and taking runner-up honors in both the 100-yard freestyle (49.26) and 100-yard backstroke (54.77). Alshammar earned All-America honors in three individual events and the four relays, including NU's runner-up 800-yard free relay.

Other returning All-Americans include Anna Windsor, Helene Muller and Beth Karaica, a trio of freestyle specialists who have been catalysts to the NU program over the past two seasons. Senior All-American and Big 12 Champion Destiny Lauren returns to defend her Big 12 crown in the 200-yard butterfly, while All-American Terrie Miller, who missed most of last season recovering from shoulder surgery, looks to be one of the top breaststrokers in the nation.

Sophomore Amanda Zins leads the diving corps. Last season, the Lincoln native placed seventh on the one meter and fifth on the three meter at the Big 12 Championships and was an NCAA Zone qualifier. Freshmen Janna Brock and Emma Johnson will greatly benefit the Husker diving corps. Brock is a two-time state breaststroke champ from Texas who recently competed on the United States Goodwill Games team, while Johnson was a member of Australia's Olympic squad in 1996.

A tough schedule should make for interesting preparation before the Big 12 and NCAA Championships. NU travels to Dallas in early November for the SMU Lady Mustang Invite, traditionally one of the toughest meets nationally. On Nov. 20, Lincoln will play host to the Sprint Classic, to be followed the Husker Shoot Out on Nov. 21-22. Dual battles with Minnesota, Penn State, and Stanford in January and February also dot the schedule. Nebraska will be looking for its third consecutive Big 12 crown in Austin, Texas, Feb. 18-20, while NU tries to maintain its position among the nations elite at the NCAA Championships in Athens, Ga., March 18-20

1998-99 Husker Men's Swimming

Head Coach: Cal Bentz (23rd season)

1997-98 Record: 7-3

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 20/6

All-Americans Returning/Lost: 7/3

For the Nebraska men's swimming and diving team, the challenges remain the same. Focus is placed toward season's end when the Huskers must lock horns with nationally prominent Texas, the two-time defending conference champion, and aim for a top-10 finish at the NCAA Championships for the first time since the 1989 season.

"We have a good nucleus returning," Nebraska Head Coach Cal Bentz said. "Talent wise, we are as good as we have ever been, it's up to us to capitalize on that, and I'm optimistic we can."

The Huskers lose three All-Americans to graduation, but return the tools necessary for an assault on Texas' Big 12 reign and a spot among the nation's elite, returning seven All-Americans from the team that finished second to the Longhorns in the Big 12 race last season and placed 18th at the NCAA Championships.

Heading the roster are All-Americans Adam Pine and Danny Bergman. Pine, originally from Ballina, Australia, is the sixth-fastest butterflyer to ever compete in a collegiate pool and a nine-time All-American who owns the Big 12 record in the 100-yard butterfly and the NU mark in the 100-yard freestyle. Last season, Pine finished fourth in the 100-yard fly after placing second in the event in 1997.

Bergman has managed to establish himself as one of the best divers in school history. An Alpine, Utah, native, Bergman has earned All-America honors on both the one- and three-meter boards the past two seasons, winning the Big 12 crown on the one-meter board in 1998.

The Huskers also return a pair of conference champions in Michael Windisch and Valery Kalmikov. Last season, Windisch broke his own conference record in winning the 400-yard IM at the Big 12 meet before going on to earn All-America honors in the event. Kalmikov won the Big 12 title in the 200-yard breaststroke last season.

Other All-Americans returning included Bert Locklin, Keith Ebbert and David Foster. Locklin makes for a great complement to Bergman on the diving boards. Last season, Locklin finished seventh on the three-meter board at the NCAA Championships. Ebbert was the Big 12 runner-up in the 200-yard IM last year, while Foster, a Lincoln native, established a new school record in the 100-yard backstroke and earned All-America honors on three NU relays last season.

NU also welcomes a pair of newcomers that could contribute to the team. Anthony Rogis of Weetangera, Australia, comes to Nebraska as one of the better freestylers in Australia. Javier Botello of Madrid, Spain, ranks as one of the best sprinters from his native country.

Accompanying Texas in the Big 12 race will be Texas A&M, Kansas, Iowa State and Missouri. The Devaney Center will play host to the Sprint Classic and Husker Shoot Out, welcoming Arizona State and Virginia. NU will also be tested with dual contests against defending national champion Stanford, SMU, Iowa and Harvard, preparing the Nebraska for conference and national competition.

1998-99 Husker Men's and Women's Swimming & Diving Schedule:

1998-99 Husker Bowling

Head Coach: Bill Straub (second season)

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 6/2

All-Americans Returning/Lost: 2/1

Intercollegiate Bowling Championship Finish: fourth

Final 1997-98 Ranking: second

Long one of the top programs nationally at the club level, the Nebraska women's bowling team was elevated to varsity status in time for the 1997-98 season.

1998-99 Nebraska Bowling Schedule

Oct. 10-11	at Midstates Invitational
Oct. 17-18	at Hoosier Classic
Oct. 24-25	at Southern Classic
Nov. 7-8	at Great Lakes Classic
Nov. 27-28	at Natl. Coll. Team Match Games
Dec. 27-28	at Las Vegas Invitational
Dec. 29-30	at Sam's Town Coll. Shoot-Out
Feb. 13-14	at Brunswick Coca-Cola Open
Feb. 21-22	at ACU-1 Regionals
March 8-9	at Buckye Classic
April 16-20	at Intercollegiate Bowling Champs.
May 9-10	at ACU-1 Individual Champs.

Entering the 1998-99 season, Coach Straub has the luxury of returning two All-Americans among four starters with the addition of the top high school bowling prospect in the nation.

The Huskers will be led by senior All-American Jen Daugherty. The Bloomington, Ill., native paced the Huskers with a 202 average in 88 games last season. Daugherty was the 1997 Intercollegiate Bowling Championships Most Valuable Bowler and took second at the ACU-I regional meet.

Daugherty will be joined by junior Kim Claus (Mesquite, Texas). Claus, an honorable-mention All-American selection, had a 201 average during the 1997-98 season. In addition, sophomores Tammy Jordan and Stacy Rogers also return after holding places in the starting lineup last season.

The returnees will be joined by a recruiting class headlined by Diandra Hyman. A Dyer, Ind., native, Hyman was selected as the Alberta E. Crowe Award winner, symbolic of the top female high school bowler in the nation. Hyman is joined by Amanda O'Hayre, the Colorado High School Bowler-of-the-Year in 1998, and Jennifer Johnston and Christie Couvillon.

Coach Straub is optimistic about the upcoming campaign.

"We are looking forward to the season," Straub said. "We return four of our top six bowlers, including a pair of All-Americans, and we have a strong recruiting class coming in. On paper, we should be in pretty good shape."

"Our schedule is going to challenge us," Straub said. "During the fall, we are pointing to the Southern Classic in Atlanta. It should be a good early-season test for us before regionals and nationals in the spring."

BIG RED BOULEVARD

Be a part of the "Tunnel Walk" at Memorial Stadium

Moments before the Nebraska football team takes the field, the coaches and players follow a path from the locker room to Tom Osborne Field. This walk, which is known as the "Tunnel Walk" by the Husker faithful, has become an important game-day tradition at Memorial Stadium.

Beneath the players is the Big Red Boulevard, a brick walkway that stretches to the field. After Coach Osborne won his first of three national championships in 1994, the Big Red Boulevard was created to add to the tradition of the "Tunnel Walk". Now you can become a key part of the tradition.

We invite all dedicated Husker fans to have their own or someone else's name engraved in one of the Boulevard's bricks. Help support the Huskers' five national titles and help the University of Nebraska maintain and improve the finest athletic facilities in the nation.

Your Big Red Boulevard investment is a one-time tax-deductible gift to the University of Nebraska Athletic Department.

Home matches in bold at the Nebraska Coliseum. All times are Central Time. *Big 12 Conference matches.

The Nebraska volleyball team is looking to return to the Final Four for the third time in four years after coming one match shy from making a third consecutive trip to the Final Four last season.

The Huskers have high hopes of winning their first national championship since 1995 with a group of three seniors returning to lead the 1998 squad. Two-time All-America setter Fiona Nepo is NU's top returner. Nepo has 3,293 career set assists and needs just 494 assists this season to eclipse the school record of Nebraska assistant coach Nikki Best. Nepo, a native of Honolulu, Hawaii, has had more than 1,600 assists in each of the past two seasons.

Leading the offensive attack are senior outside hitter Jaime Krondak and senior middle blocker Megan Korver. Krondak missed 10 matches last season because of a back injury, but should be 100 percent for the 1998 campaign. A tough server, she led the team with 25 service aces. Korver has led the Huskers in blocks per game the past two seasons and will again be the stopper in the middle.

Outside hitters Mandy Monson and Angie Oxley will also contribute greatly to the Husker attack after stellar years in 1997. Monson started every match as a sophomore, averaging 2.82 kills and 3.25 digs per game. Oxley did not play the first 17 matches, but with key injuries, she was brought out a redshirt season. Oxley was impressive, earning Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year honors as she averaged 2.84 kills and 3.16 digs per game.

Replacing three-time All-American Lisa Reitsma falls on the shoulders of sophomore Nancy Meendering. A left-hander who attended the same high school as Reitsma, Meendering will fill the role as right-side attacker.

Conference Newcomer-of-the-Year Katie Jahnke and fellow middle blocker Tonia Tauke will play a key role in the front row in 1998. Both played in more than 90 games last season. Defensive specialists Nikki Henk and Kim Crandall will add depth to the back row, as well as Denise Koziol, who began last season as an outside hitter, but moved to a more defensive role. Sophomore setter Jim McWilliams will remain as Nepo's backup and could see more playing time in a 6-2 offense. Sophomore outside hitter Kim Behrends should also see time after playing sparingly last season.

Newcomers and middle blockers Jenny Kropp and Pam Krejci will add depth behind Korver, Jahnke and Tauke.

University of Nebraska Songs

(The official field song for Nebraska)

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

CHORUS

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The Alma Mater

Refrain:

Nebraska, Nebraska
We pledge you our true loyalty
Nebraska, Nebraska
A good life for you and for me.

Verse 1

We have scarlet and cream as our colors
And we wear them proudly to our games
For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend
And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2

Here to learn for an undiscovered future
And to build from a classical past
We are proud of our dear Alma Mater
We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse 3

When the moon shone bright on the colors,
And those memories make you say,
When we kissed on that night at the columns
And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

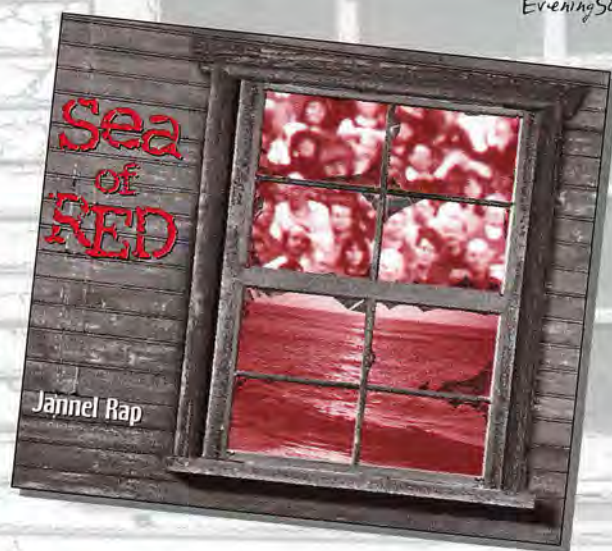

Refrain

Born in the Valley surrounded by the Sea of RED that is Husker football, Lincoln-born Jannel Rap tells of her life growing up in Nebraska, feeling "like a little kid in a Sea of RED." Her music reflects her home State — honest and direct. Articulate, literate and a remarkable songwriter, Jannel is an artist destined to forge new ground in the Lilith Fair tradition. An eclectic mix of the best of folk, rock and country, Sea of RED sets a new standard for female singer/songwriters.

A portion of the proceeds from all sales of the Sea of RED CD will be donated to Dr. Tom Osborne's TEAMMATES Mentoring Program and the St. Elizabeth Children's Health Fund.

Sea of RED CDs and T-Shirts are available at the Nebraska Bookstore and other fine music and Husker-affiliated stores.

*Many more concert dates to come! Jannel will be performing with local high school choirs at schools in cities throughout Nebraska. Check our website for upcoming concerts and Jannel happenings in your area — www.eveningstar1.com

NCAA Top Eight Award

In the history of college athletics, honors for athletes have never been so abundant as they are for today's sports stars. The college sports scene is saturated with individual awards of recognition on the school, conference, national and even international levels.

But among the honors and recognition for achievement, there is no award more prestigious and meaningful to today's college student-athlete than the NCAA Top Eight Award.

It is presented annually to the top eight student-athletes in their senior year of college.

This year's honorees are:

Lisa Coole

The 1997 NCAA Woman of the Year, Coole became the first swimmer in Georgia history to earn the maximum-possible seven first-team all-American awards in swimming. She also won NCAA individual-event titles in 100 butterfly and the 200 freestyle relay, and won gold, silver and bronze medals in the 1995 World University Games.

Coole graduated cum laude with a degree in biology. She was a 1997 NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient and a GTE Academic All-America honoree.

Coole died in a car accident in Spring 1998.

Carrie Ferguson

A two-sport athlete (basketball and volleyball), Ferguson helped guide Capital to two Division III Women's Basketball Championship titles and a third-place finish during her four-year basketball career.

Ferguson graduated with a degree in psychology, placing first in her class. She was selected as an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient and was a GTE Academic All-America honoree.

Brian Griese

Griese led Michigan to the No. 1 ranking in the country and a victory over Washington State in the 1998 Rose Bowl.

The Wolverines' school record-holder for most touchdown passes in a game with four, Griese was a GTE Academic All-America honoree and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient.

Peyton Manning

Manning, after returning for his senior season instead of turning professional, leaves Tennessee with 33 school records. Runner-up in the 1998 Heisman Trophy voting, he led the Volunteers to an 11-2 record and a berth in the 1998 Orange Bowl against Nebraska.

Manning was a 1997 National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient.

Kasey Morlock

Named the 1997 Rawlings Division II player of the year, Morlock helped lead the North Dakota State basketball team to three straight national titles. She also competed on the school's volleyball team.

Morlock graduated with a degree in electrical engineering. She was a GTE Academic All-America honoree and a two-time conference all-academic team selection.

Obadele Thompson

Thompson is the world indoor track record holder at 55 meters, with a time of 5.99 seconds. He placed fourth in the 200-meter run at the 1996 Olympic Games.

The 1997 NCAA 100-meter dash champion, Thompson was a GTE Academic

All-America honoree. He earned membership in Beta Gamma Sigma as one of the top seven percent of all business students in the United States during 1996.

Meredith Willard

An NCAA Woman of the Year finalist at Alabama, Willard won the all-around competition at the 1996 National Collegiate Women's Gymnastics Championships.

Willard graduated with a degree in marketing. She was an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient. Willard was a National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches (Women) scholastic all-American three consecutive years.

Grant Wistrom

All-American football player Grant Wistrom is the all-time leader in career tackles-for-loss at Nebraska.

A 1996 Lombardi Award semifinalist, Wistrom was a recipient of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Postgraduate Scholarship and was an NCAA postgraduate scholarship selection. ■

HuskerVision

Five years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a "vision" to make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project this big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

When HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, though, Byrne's vision proved to be correct, as the big screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game-day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at an exclusive college venue. The only other college games which previously had boards available were those played in stadiums which are home to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets, plus video processing electronics are manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

Beside the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000 watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week prior to a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, the HuskerVision crew is headed by Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmahl. Schmahl is in charge of the control room personnel which includes eight people, while three other members of the staff operate cameras on the field. Also operating in conjunction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rick Schwieger, who also serves as a production specialist for the athletic department. Shot Kleen is HuskerVision's chief engineer and Kirk Hartman is a HuskerVision video production specialist.

The state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio, located on the West Stadium Concourse, helps the HuskerVision crew produce more than 100 shows during the year.

In 1994, Memorial Stadium became the first collegiate football venue to have video replay boards.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. This area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, non-linear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced over 100 television shows, including the Tom Osborne Show, the Kickoff Show, as well as coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and The Aliant Communications Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Danny Nee Show and The Paul Sanderford Show will be broadcast on a state-wide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 24 varsity programs.

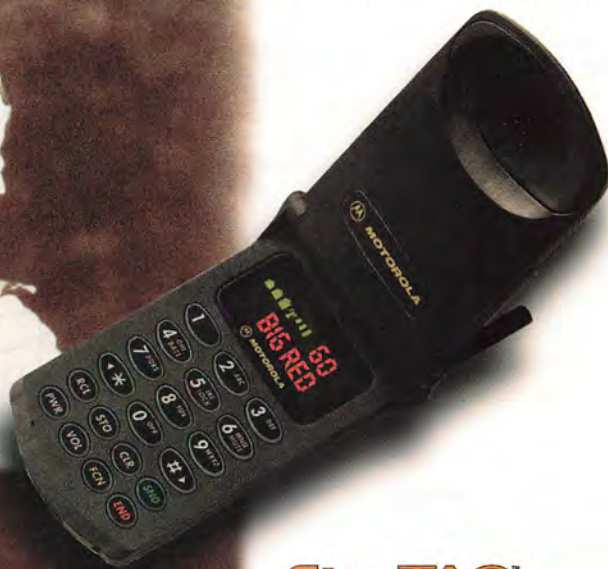

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 24 varsity sports. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. For the past five years, HuskerVision has produced and marketed nine highlight tapes and more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision. With other improvements on the way, Memorial Stadium is sure to remain one of the nation's most dramatic settings for a college football game.

Big 12 Conference . . . Creating a Legacy

One of the nation's most prolific conferences, the Big 12 maintains its leadership role in academic, student life, competition, sportsmanship and compliance areas within the NCAA framework.

Dedicated to achieving the highest goals in the integration of academic and athletic endeavors, Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech combined forces on February 25, 1994, and forged the Big 12 Conference, one of the most powerful alliances in NCAA Division I competition.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in its classrooms and its stadiums. In all, conference institutions have received accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, Big 12 teams have accounted for more than 150 national team championships—138 NCAA and 16 wire service football titles—while its student-athletes have claimed more than 800 NCAA crowns entering the 1998-99 academic year.

The formation of the Big 12 represented an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve higher levels of performance heading into the 21st Century.

Institution chancellors and presidents serve as chief policy makers for the conference, operating as the Board of Directors. Administration of the circuit occurs through the Council of Faculty Athletics Representatives, Board of Athletic Directors and Board of Senior Woman Administrators.

The Big 12 took a bold step toward community service in May, 1996, by adopting Special Olympics as its primary philanthropy. Other charitable and community service organizations such as the Lou Groza National Collegiate Place Kicker Award, NCAA YES Program and Best Buddies, to name a few, have the sponsorship of the conference. Member-institutions have provided facilities for local, regional and national Special Olympics competition for years, but under the Big 12 blanket, Special Olympians, their coaches and their fans have the opportunity to interact as recipients of clinics and other cooperative efforts in conjunction with Big 12 events. In August, 1996, Executive Directors of Special Olympics in the seven-state area and Big 12 officials decided to promote the national movement through public service announcements aired to all 50 states and overseas' markets during Big 12 football and basketball games and on the weekly "Big 12 Showcase" television program.

Another innovative venture of the Big 12 is the development of the Life Skills Program and Academic Services. Programs such as the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Special Olympics and the YES program of clinics and stay-in-school messages to youngsters are a few of the life skills areas promoted by the Big 12. Student-athletes play an active role in community endeavors such as hospital visits, youth school programs, enhance/eligibility information and anti-violence campaigns promoted through local appearances and public service announcements aired during Big 12 contests.

Exposure is key in any endeavor of this magnitude, and the Big 12 has one of the best regional and national telecast agreements in the nation. ABC and Fox Sports Net combine to produce nearly 40 football games annually in syndicated, regional, national and prime-time windows. The Big 12 blankets television on the Friday after Thanksgiving with back-to-back national grid telecasts of Texas-Texas A&M and Colorado-Nebraska.

ESPN and ESPN Regional provide regional over-the-air syndication, national cable and national network coverage of up to 90 men's basketball games per season. The Big 12 is a mainstay in the ESPN lineup with the highest rated college basketball slot on "Big Monday." In addition to the highly successful syndicated package within the seven-state conference region, ESPN Regional markets 10 games annually to CBS and ABC for the Big 12. All 11 games of the Big 12 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament are aired either regionally or nationally. Fox Sports Net relies on Big 12 supplied programming of regular-season volleyball, and women's basketball while televising nearly 30 events per year. Big 12 championships also have a home at Fox Sports Net. At least eight Big 12 Olympic championships are televised on either a regional or national cable basis, and Fox Sports Net boasts one of the best weekly collegiate programs in the 39-installment "Big 12 Showcase." ESPN ventures into the mix by promoting and televising an annual Big 12 women's basketball challenge and will air the 1998 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament title game.

In all, packages with ABC, Fox Sports Net and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through the year 2000 (2003 with ABC for football television) and $145 million to member institutions.

The Big 12 hit the field with Oklahoma claiming the inaugural conference title in softball on May 11, 1996. Big 12 football kicked off in grand fashion as Kansas State defeated Texas Tech 21-14 on Aug. 31, 1996, in Manhattan, Kan. Texas edged Nebraska, 37-27, in the first Dr. Pepper Big 12 Football Championship Game to allow the conference to gain two Bowl Alliance berths and to bring a very successful 1996 to a close.

The Big 12 utilizes a North-South divisional format in football, with the two Oklahoma schools and the four Texas schools making up the Big 12 South and the remaining six schools complete the Big 12 North. The champions of each division face each other in an electric showdown in early December to determine the Big 12 representative to the Bowl Alliance. Thanks to the high level of competition, the Big 12 has been the only conference with two teams participating in the alliance in each of the last two years, and Nebraska clinched the national title in the ESPN/USA TODAY football poll on Jan. 2, 1998, with a 42-17 victory over Tennessee in the FedEx Orange Bowl. In addition to the alliance, the Big 12 has five other bowl agreements with the Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl Classic, Plymouth Holiday Bowl, Builders Square Alamo Bowl, Jeep Aloha Bowl and Copper Bowl.

In 1997-98, the 21 regular season championship trophies were divided among seven schools. Nebraska won the Big 12 all-sports title by capturing six trophies (football, softball, women's gymnastics, women's swimming and diving and men's indoor and outdoor track). Texas took five titles (volleyball, men's swimming and diving, women's indoor and outdoor track and women's tennis), while Texas A&M claimed three crowns (women's soccer, women's golf, men's tennis). Colorado (men's and women's cross country), Oklahoma State (wrestling and men's golf) and Texas Tech (women's basketball and baseball) each captured two titles, while Kansas (men's basketball) earned the final conference crown.

Men's programs regulated by the conference include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor/outdoor track and field, swimming and diving, tennis, and wrestling. Big 12-regulated women's programs include basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor/outdoor track and field, soccer, softball, swimming and diving and tennis.

Husker Pros...Pipeline to the NFL

Neil Smith ►

Neil Smith (1984-87) was one of the nation's premier pass rushers at Nebraska. He has carried that reputation into the NFL where he is a seven-time Pro Bowl performer with 94 career sacks. Last season Smith helped the Denver Broncos to their first-ever Super Bowl title.

Did You Know...

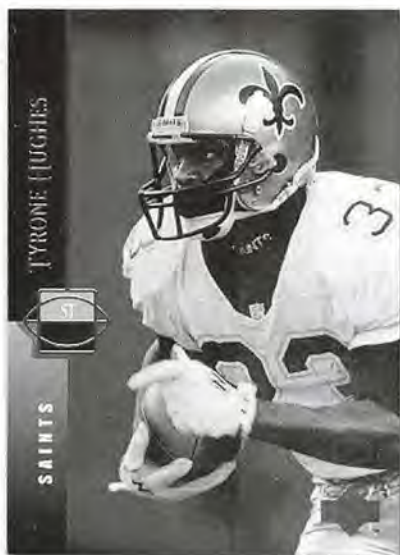

- ◆ Nebraska has averaged almost five and a half draft picks per year since 1954.
- ◆ In the last 25 years, the number of NFL draft picks has increased to more than seven annually, with 181.
- ◆ Nebraska is tied for sixth on the NFL's all-time first-round draft list with 30, including 11 first-round selections in the last 12 drafts.
- ◆ Grant Wistrom and Jason Peter were both selected in the top 15 picks in the 1998 draft.
- ◆ Forty-four players who played for Nebraska sometime during the last four years were either drafted or signed free-agent contracts with NFL teams.

"The University of Nebraska staff encouraged my development as an athlete and as a person. They helped me to be creative, manage my time and build my character, poise and beliefs. The assistance and training I received at Nebraska enabled me to be ready to assume a starting role for the Kansas City Chiefs as a rookie."

Will Shields, 1992 Outland Trophy Winner

Tyrone Hughes ►

Tyrone Hughes (1989-92), a two-time Pro Bowl return specialist, enjoyed his fourth straight 1,000-yard campaign and his first with the Chicago Bears in 1997. Hughes holds or shares eight NFL records, including kickoff return yards in a season (1,791), kickoff returns in a season (70) and kickoff return yardage in a game (304).

◀ Will Shields

Will Shields (1989-92), who has been with the Kansas City Chiefs for six years, was a three-year starter for the Huskers and the sixth Outland Trophy winner in NU's history. Shields has made three consecutive Pro Bowl appearances, including two straight starting nods.

▲ Irving Fryar

Irving Fryar (1980-83) was an integral part of the Huskers' "Scoring Explosion," which led the nation in scoring in 1983. The No. 1 pick of the 1984 NFL Draft, Fryar has 736 career receptions and 11,427 career yards, both of which rank ninth in NFL history. Fryar signed with Philadelphia in 1996 after 12 seasons with Miami and New England. He has caught more passes than all but two NFL players the past two years.

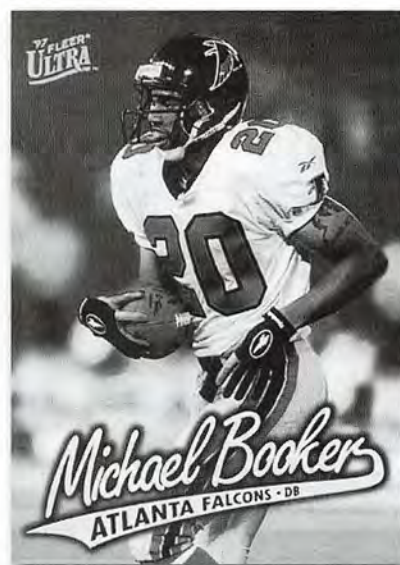

◀ Toby Wright

One of a slew of Huskers on the St. Louis Rams roster, Toby Wright (1992-93) has returned both a fumble and an interception for a touchdown in his three-year NFL career. Wright's teammates include first-round draft-pick Grant Wistrom, Zach Wiegert and Troy Dumas.

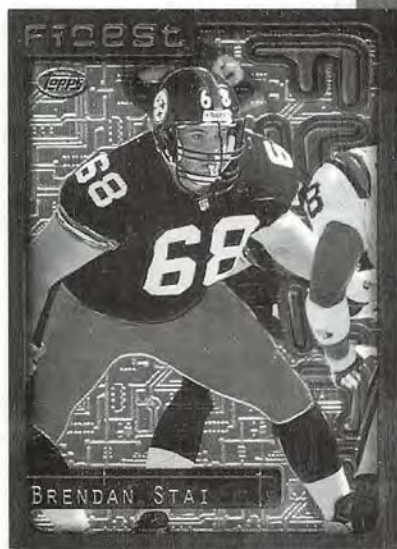

▶ John Parrella

San Diego's starting defensive tackle, John Parrella (1990-92) carried just 11 starts into his fifth NFL season, but started every game for the Chargers in 1997, racking up 3.5 sacks and a fumble recovery.

▲ Michael Booker

A first-round draft pick a year ago, Michael Booker (1993-96) ranked second among NFL rookies with three interceptions in 1997 as a member of the Atlanta Falcons. Booker helped the Huskers to a pair of national championships.

◀ Brenden Stai

Pittsburgh Steelers' starting guard, Brenden Stai (1991-94), will enter his fourth year in the black and gold after earning 27 starting assignments during his first three years. Former Husker Donta Jones also plays for Pittsburgh.

Did You Know...

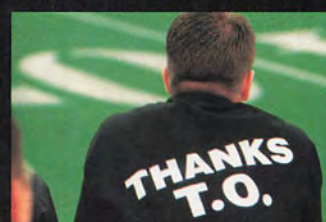

- ◆ In addition to the numerous ball carriers and interior blockers NU has fed to the NFL in the last 10 years, the Huskers have had 18 receivers drafted or signed as free agents, and 14 Husker defensive backs have been selected in the last six NFL drafts.
- ◆ Nebraska's six draftees in 1998 tied for the lead in the Big 12 Conference.

Husker Athletics...Nationally Prominent

▲ Men's Basketball

Posting its best conference mark since 1991, the men's basketball team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fifth time in the 90s. Junior Tyronn Lue averaged 21.8 points in league play to earn first-team All-Big 12 honors.

◀ Softball

Led by first-team All-Americans Ali Viola and Jenny Voss, the 1998 NU softball team finished the season ranked fifth after advancing to the College World Series for the first time in a decade.

▲ Soccer

In only its fourth season of existence, the NU soccer team earned its second straight top-10 finish, ending the 1997 season ranked seventh. Kim Engesser led the NCAA in goals in 1997.

Men's Gymnastics ▶

Marshall Nelson defended his national title on the parallel bars in 1998 by scoring a 9.7875 to capture the third national crown of his career.

Did You Know...

- ◆ Nebraska's athletic teams took home league titles in football, women's swimming, men's indoor track, women's gymnastics, softball and men's outdoor track in 1997-98.
- ◆ Nebraska was one of only four teams in the nation that had a football team in a bowl game, both basketball teams in the NCAA Tournament, the volleyball team in the NCAA Tournament and either a baseball or softball team in the College World Series in 1997-98.

About the Nebraska Spirit Squad

The University of Nebraska's Spirit Squad's involvement in the community and the Athletic Department make it one of the most high-profile programs in the country. In addition to attending Husker sporting events, the squad made more than 200 civic and philanthropic appearances last year. Members of the squad lift weights, condition and train 10-12 hours per week as well as attend team practices and technique classes. The dance team placed second and the yell squad finished third at the national competition last year. The Spirit Squad prides itself in maintaining a team 3.0 cumulative grade-point average.

If you would like more information about the program or would like to become a Husker Spirit Squad contributor, please contact Renee Black at (402) 472-4622.

Train Like the Huskers... At Your Place or Ours.

The University of Nebraska strength and conditioning program known as Husker Power has proven to be the premier program in the country for improving athletes' strength, speed and agility. Now the know-how once reserved for Nebraska's collegiate athletes is available to you.

Learn from the Best

The Husker Power staff consists of strength and conditioning specialists who work with Nebraska's collegiate athletes on a day-to-day basis. Husker Power has assisted in producing All-Americans, World Record Holders and National Champions in a variety of sports. Male and female athletes alike have benefited from Husker Power.

Train to be the Best

Now you can benefit from Husker Power as well. As an administrator or coach, you can help your athletes improve their performance by serving as host to a Performance Clinic. Clinics are conducted on-site, allowing for Husker Power staff members to educate your athletes about every area of strength and conditioning training.

As an athlete, there are two ways to work with Husker Power directly. Performance Camp is a one day event where you receive instruction allowing you to implement the "Make the Play" program on your own. It includes drills and demonstrations to improve speed, power and agility.

For the athlete who has made training a top priority, Performance 101 is the best summer course available. Athletes spend six weeks training at the West Stadium Strength Complex with Husker Power staff members. You will receive one-on-one instruction on all facets of strength and conditioning training. The training is intense, but the results speak for themselves. For high school athletes, there is no better opportunity to improve your strength and conditioning.

If you are interested in improving your performance, call for a free brochure.

Clinic

The knowledge of Husker Power comes to your door when you serve as host to a Performance Clinic. This is the ideal way to teach strength and conditioning to a group of athletes and to implement the Husker Power principles into your overall program.

performance
Camp

Performance Camp is designed to teach the principles of strength and conditioning training in one day. Athletes are provided with the necessary tools for implementing a summer training program. The camp is held each summer at the West Stadium Complex at UNL.

101

For high school athletes who are serious about improving performance, Husker Power offers Performance 101. This elite summer course has helped athletes make incredible strides in every area of strength and conditioning. No other program has produced the same results for high school students as Performance 101.

Got Husker Fever?

Feed the fever with the great taste of Roberts.

Roberts is proud to support the Huskers as they continue their dominance in a new era. As always, we'll be there every bite of the way.

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, Director's Club, Touchdown Club, Extra Point Club, Beef Club, Rebounders and the courtesy car program.

The Nebraska Radio Network

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its third year of producing live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska sporting events. Pinnacle, now owned by Triathlon, purchased the rights on Feb. 9, 1996, and was approved by the board of regents on Feb. 24.

The Pinnacle Sports contract began with the 1996-97 season and runs through the 2000-2001 season. It includes the exclusive radio broadcast rights to Nebraska football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball and volleyball. The contract has guaranteed rights fees of $8.6 million dollars over five years. In addition to game coverage, Pinnacle Sports provides a daily, live call-in show focusing on NU athletics and other sports in the area.

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. KKAR owns the rights as the Omaha affiliate, while KLIN retains the rights to Nebraska athletics in the Lincoln market. As of press time, Pinnacle Sports had put together a 60-station network, including 36 in-state and 24 out-state stations, covering 15 states.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; air wave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote the University of Nebraska in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb., is president of Pinnacle Sports Productions. His staff includes Patty Aaron, Laurel McLane, Joni Woodruff (marketing) and Elizabeth Pate (office manager).

Announcer Warren Swain

The radio contract change also brought about a change in the on-air talent for Husker athletics. Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his third year as the play-by-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the sports radio business for nearly three decades and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996.

Swain has also held play-by-play assignments at Drake University, the University of Oregon, Iowa State University and Hastings College. Swain was named Virginia Sportscaster-of-the-Year six times, most recently in 1994, as well as earning Iowa and Oregon Sportscaster-of-the-Year honors.

After growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with the University of Nebraska.

Former Husker Adrian Fiala provides color for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers (1967-69). Fiala previously provided color commentary for KFOR radio in Lincoln, working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as the analyst for telecasts of the Omaha Royals games on the Nebraska ETV Network and in Omaha, on Cox cable. Former Huskers Terry Connealy and Jerry Tagge are also a part of the football team. Connealy is a statistician and Tagge is a sideline reporter. Mike Elliott serves as technical director.

Jim Rose (of KLIN) and Gary Java (KKAR) are also a part of the network team. Other announcers include KLIN's Gary Sharp, John Baylor, John Bishop and NU Director of Basketball Operations Nick Joos (men's basketball).

Shaw Strives for Success on and off the Field

By Keith Zimmer

Nebraska junior Sam linebacker Brian Shaw has a history of defying the odds. Shaw is living out his boyhood dream by playing for the red and white of Nebraska.

"It was always a goal of mine to play for Nebraska," Shaw said. "Honestly, I had some personal doubts and I know many people didn't think a small town farm kid could make his mark on one of the most tradition-rich college football programs in the country."

Shaw, a standout multi-sport athlete at Sandy Creek High School in Nebraska, turned some heads during the summer before his high school senior year at the Nebraska football camp.

"The camp was definitely the turning point, and I think I was able to catch the attention of the Nebraska coaches. Still, I didn't know if it was realistic that I could play for Nebraska, although I always remained optimistic and determined," Shaw said.

Shaw, who played both running back and linebacker at Sandy Creek, demonstrated his versatility and overall athletic ability, as he earned super state honors in football and basketball and claimed five gold medals in track and field. Not surprisingly, Husker head coach Tom Osborne was impressed with Shaw and in the spring of 1995, Coach Osborne and Assistant Coach Dan Young were actively recruiting Shaw.

"I knew Nebraska was genuinely interested in me when I found out Coach Osborne was coming to our home for a visit. I was nervous and excited before Coach Osborne arrived and wanted to make a good impression," Shaw said.

Not only was Osborne impressed with the ability, attitude and work ethic of Shaw; similarly Shaw quickly gathered that Osborne was as good as advertised.

"He was practical and very honest regarding the opportunities I would have at Nebraska," Shaw said. "Growing up as a kid I always held Coach Osborne up to a very high standard and he certainly was everything I thought he stood for."

Like most other college coaches, Osborne recruited Shaw as an "athlete" uncertain what position he would ultimately play in college. In the midst of Shaw considering South Dakota State, University of Nebraska-Omaha and University of Nebraska-Kearney, Osborne made an offer too attractive to refuse.

"Coach told me that Nebraska would provide me with a scholarship after two years and I was elated," Shaw said. "At that very moment it was clear to me I could play and contribute to a top program like Nebraska. I'm thankful for the opportunity. I didn't want to look back and say 'what if.'"

Only time would tell if Shaw was indeed a legitimate Division I player.

Shaw was pleased to be redshirted in 1995 using the year to adjust to college and also develop physically.

"All in all, my transition to Nebraska went pretty smooth. The redshirt year was a plus on the field and the fact that I was only 90 minutes from home minimized the adjustment that most freshmen experience," Shaw said.

Academically, Shaw has always had a game plan for academic success from the very beginning.

"The secrets to my academic success are very basic. I set my priorities and have good time management skills. I attend every class, pay careful attention and really try to connect with the instructor and material being covered," Shaw said.

Three years later, Shaw has already left his mark on the University. Shaw continues to maintain a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in animal science, and he has been named to the academic All-Big 12 team in back-to-back seasons.

On the field, Shaw has been a success as well. Last season, he started eight of the first nine games as the Huskers' Sam linebacker. He recorded 28 total tackles, including a 10-yard sack against Baylor and played in all 12 regular season games and the Orange Bowl victory.

In 1996 as a redshirt freshman, Shaw was a backup to current Washington Redskins linebacker Jamel Williams. Shaw played in 12 games and had 22 tackles, including a seven-yard sack against Baylor. He also recovered a fumble against Michigan State in the season opener.

"My goals of becoming an academic All-American and graduating with a 4.0 are still in tact," Shaw said. "I am just trying to do my part in helping break down some of the student-athlete stereotypes that still persist. I am just one of many Nebraska student-athletes who take pride in being a scholar first and athlete second."

This year, Shaw and Tony Ortiz will again share time at the Sam linebacker position. Last year, the two combined to make 60 tackles playing on the strong side of the Husker defense. Shaw said he will give his all whenever he is on the playing field.

"I never let myself give less than 100 percent and set high standards for myself. I believe my mental ability allows me to have great football instincts and just react on the field," Shaw said.

In the weight room is another area where Shaw has excelled. He is the linebacker position record holder in the performance index with a score of 2,817 points. He also holds the all-time best pro agility run in a time of 3.71 seconds.

So far, Shaw is more than pleased with the progression of his entire Nebraska career.

"It's still amazing to me to think I have been a part of two national championship teams and played for Coach Tom Osborne. Now, it's exciting to be part of a new era and hopefully help Coach (Frank) Solich keep things at a very high level," Shaw said.

Although he is looking forward to the day when football is over, Shaw definitely would accept the challenge of taking his game to the National Football League.

"I know it would be very similar to Nebraska. At best I would be a walk-on again fighting just to make the team. In time, I'm sure I could contribute and be a real asset to a ball club."

With or without football, Shaw has a very promising future. Named to the Brook Berringer Citizenship team in 1998, Shaw represents what is right about college athletics. Brian Shaw is the ultimate role-model combining excellence on the field, in the classroom and in the community.

Brian Shaw has had success in the classroom, in the weight room and on the playing field for the Huskers. An animal science major, Shaw has a 4.0 grade-point average.

Christo Looks to Put Injuries Behind Him in '98

By Trevor Parks

Senior quarterback Monte Christo's injury-plagued career at Nebraska has left him battered physically, but strengthened him mentally.

Christo, a native of Kearney who begins his final season with the Huskers today against Louisiana Tech, has suffered five injuries at probably the worst times he could imagine, but he still has a positive perspective on his Husker career.

"Being part of three national championship teams, I couldn't have been here at a better time," Christo said. "Tommie Frazier, Brook Berringer and Scott Frost -- there have been a lot of the great names who have played quarterback since I have been here. I am happy to have been able to experience the things that I have."

Unfortunately for Christo, he has been remembered for his injury mishaps more than his touchdown passes.

As a freshman in 1994, Christo was the only walk-on freshman invited to fall camp, earning a spot on the Huskers' travel roster to the Kickoff Classic against West Virginia. Three days after the opener, he tore a ligament in his thumb on his throwing hand forcing him to miss the Huskers' next four games. Christo was expected to redshirt, but was part of the 60-man roster as the Huskers went to Missouri.

With the game comfortably in hand, Berringer, who had a punctured lung earlier in the season, left the contest and backup Matt Turman suffered an injury on a late hit, prompting Coach Tom Osborne to put Christo into the game. Christo played the final two minutes -- six plays -- in the win.

The next weekend, Christo dressed for his first home game against No. 2 Colorado. Christo didn't play as the Huskers won 24-7 and moved from No. 3 to the top-ranked spot in both polls before going on to win the national title.

Christo said he will always remember that week leading up the Colorado game.

"Some of the most vivid memories I have are from my freshman year," Christo said. "That was an exciting time for me. A lot of things were going on, and we had a great team that year and won the national championship. Getting thrown into the fire at the Missouri game was exciting and suiting up the next home game against Colorado, it was my first home game I dressed up."

"That was my time," Christo said.

Since the 1994 season, the fifth-year senior has seen limited action because of injuries. In the spring of 1995, he had a disc removed from his back, but recovered in time for fall practice only to tear the anterior cruciate ligament in his knee on the first day of contact drills. After missing the 1995 season, Christo returned in the spring of 1996 only to suffer a concussion on a monster hit by safety Clint Finley. The injuries kept coming in 1997 when he suffered a cracked vertebrae in fall practice that forced him to miss the season opener. His latest episode came last spring when he tore the ligament in his right thumb again, forcing him to miss most of spring workouts.

"Two things I have learned through all the injuries is how to handle adversity and how to persevere," Christo said. "Hopefully down the road that will pay off for me, in whatever I decide to do or wherever I end up in life. I have been through some tough times, and I know how to get through them."

Christo has fought through the injuries, and Nebraska Quarterback Coach Turner Gill said he is glad Christo has survived the tough times.

"It's just like anything else," Gill said. "If somebody starts something, you want them to finish it. He wants to finish what he started, and we're glad to have him be part of our football team."

"You never know. There still may be a day where he has to be called upon. And there may not be. It may just be that he gives encouragement to the younger guys -- all the guys and not just the quarterbacks."

Christo said although he is not the No. 1 signal caller, he is glad to help sophomore Bobby Newcombe and redshirt freshman Eric Crouch learn the ropes as both players enter their first seasons at the quarterback position for Nebraska.

"I feel comfortable with where I am at right now," Christo said. "I have a very good grasp of what we are doing offensively and obviously Eric and Bobby are ahead of me right now, and I am just going to help out anyway I can. If they have problems, if they have trouble seeing things, I am going to be right there to help them out. I will prepare everyday like I am going to get the opportunity to play."

Although he has never been the Huskers' top quarterback, Christo said that is just how things go at a school like Nebraska.

"In high school you are kind of the big man on the block and then you come here and there is always somebody who is pushing you or someone who is ahead of you and that is kind of frustrating," he said. "We all have one common goal and that is be successful. You have to know your role."

One positive about the injuries is that Christo has found a career path to follow after his days of playing football are over.

He took the Medical College Aptitude Test on Aug. 16 in hopes of attending medical school. A biological sciences major, Christo must apply, interview and have his score qualify him for medical school. He will not know about his MCAT result until the end of March. He has also worked in the offices of Husker team physicians Dr. Pat Clare and Dr. Robert Dugas two of the past three summers.

"I wasn't really sure what I wanted to do when I came to Nebraska," he said. "I like science a lot and after taking a couple of classes and being in the training room and operating room, those were two big things that led me to look into it more. The more I looked into going to medical school, it became a good option."

For now, Christo is focused on the season ahead. In his career, he has played in 11 games, rushing for 52 yards on five carries. As a junior, he earned honorable-mention academic All-Big 12 honors playing in five games.

But, according to Gill, Christo's value goes far beyond his game time. Gill said Christo is a key player to the younger quarterbacks.

"He just gives an emotional lift to everybody," Gill said. "He has seen people do the job properly such as Tommie Frazier, Brook Berringer and Scott Frost. I think because of that he can support Eric Crouch and Bobby Newcombe a lot. He's very intelligent and knows about all you can know."

Christo said he will play whatever role to help the team win.

"My personal goal is if I get the chance to do the very best that I can," he said. "The only way I can do that is to prepare hard every day. Our team goals are again the same to win the Big 12 and battle for another national title. We're all excited about the season."

During each home game, watch HuskerVision™ for your section and row to be announced. If you're sitting in the winning row, we'll deliver a fresh slice of Valentino's award-winning pizza directly to you!

Still hungry?

After the game, visit Valentino's Grand Italian Buffet at any of our convenient midwest buffet locations, where our award-winning pizza is just the beginning! Our buffet features over 65 delicious items, including pastas, salads and desserts.

Leadership. The heart of any successful program.

Dr. Tom Osborne
Former BryanLGH Patient

In 25 years of building the country's most successful football program, Tom Osborne brought his unique brand of leadership to the field. That's why he chose BryanLGH Medical Center when he was faced with a potentially serious heart condition.

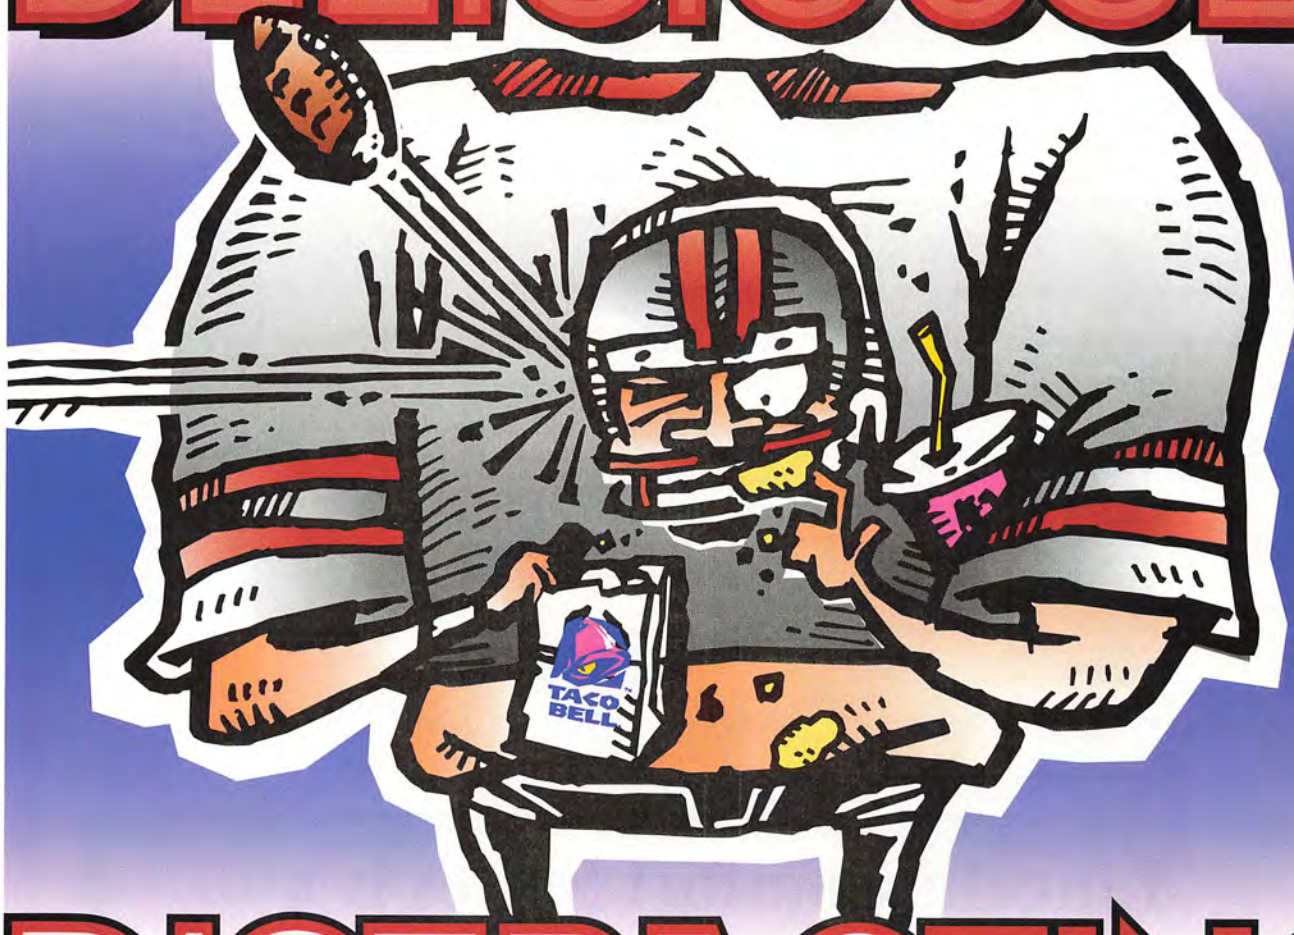

As Nebraska's leading provider of cardiac care, the BryanLGH team of heart specialists offers a range of diagnostic, treatment and rehabilitative procedures no other program in Nebraska can match. Each delivered through state-of-the-art technology, skilled expertise and the years of cardiac experience that comes from being the first choice of more Nebraskans.

For the very best in cardiac care, look to the leader. BryanLGH.

NCAA Rules and Regulations

Your support of Nebraska athletics is very much appreciated. However, there are restrictions regarding your involvement with student-athletes. Help Nebraska assure compliance with NCAA rules and regulations by taking a few moments to read this information. The eligibility of Nebraska student-athletes and reputation of the department and university depend greatly upon your cooperation.

Winning Tradition

Alumni, boosters, and friends of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln are proud of the success that the Huskers obtain each year in both academic accomplishments and athletic achievements. Our rich tradition is a result of the tremendous work ethic and commitment by our coaches, student-athletes, and athletic department support staff members. Winning is important at Nebraska, but winning the right way by following the rules that govern the recruitment and treatment of student-athletes is a must.

As a member of the Big 12 Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the University of Nebraska is responsible for insuring that its coaches, student-athletes, faculty and staff, boosters, alumni, and friends abide with conference and NCAA regulations. The purpose of this information is to inform you of a few of the restrictions that will affect your involvement with the athletic department, prospective student-athletes, and the enrolled student-athlete. This is not a comprehensive list of all rules and regulations. We ask that you contact the athletic department if questions or concerns arise which may impact the eligibility of a student-athlete.

Key Definition--NCAA Bylaw 13.02.12

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska Representative if you:

- * Are a present or past member of an NU booster club
- * Have made financial contributions in any manner toward the athletic department
- * Are, or have been assisting with the recruitment of student-athletes
- * Are, or have been providing benefits to enrolled student-athletes or their family members
- * Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the NU athletics program

Limitations of a Representative--NCAA Bylaw 13.01.5.1

In Division I, representatives of an institution's athletics interests are prohibited from making in-person, recruiting contact with prospective student-athletes on or off the University of Nebraska campus. A representative may not write or telephone a prospect, his parents, legal guardians, or relatives. In addition, a representative may not contact a prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate a prospect.

Permissible Exceptions

1. A representative may have contact with a prospect regarding summer employment opportunities once the prospect has signed a National Letter of Intent to attend the University of Nebraska. Please let us know that you are making such contacts.

2. A representative may have a telephone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member and the conversation should not include any recruiting contact. Please refer any questions regarding the University of Nebraska athletic program to our athletic department.

3. A representative may attend high school and community college events on his own initiative to observe a prospect during competition.

However, contact with the prospect and family members is not permissible. If they approach you, please refer them to the Nebraska Athletic Department.

Extra Benefit Rule--Bylaw 16.02.3

The majority of NCAA rule infractions involving athletics representatives occur as a result of providing an enrolled student-athlete with an extra benefit. An extra benefit, as defined by the NCAA, is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or a representative of the institution's athletics interests to provide a student athlete or his relatives and friends a benefit not expressly authorized by the NCAA legislation.

An athletic representative is prohibited from providing a student-athlete, with, but not limited to cash, clothing, transportation, housing, gifts, and entertainment. Furthermore, providing loans, promising post-graduate financial aid, and guaranteeing a student-athlete or his relatives employment opportunities as a form of inducement to enroll at the University of Nebraska is strictly prohibited.

Permissible Exceptions

1. A representative may provide a home-cooked meal in your home for special occasions. You may also provide local reasonable transportation to your home for the student-athlete as long as the meal is in your home.

2. A representative may provide summer vacation and academic year employment opportunities for student athletes. Remember that these opportunities may not be used during the recruiting process of a student athlete in an effort to influence their decision to attend the University of Nebraska.

Further Information

We encourage you to contact the University of Nebraska Athletic Department with any questions or concerns regarding NCAA rules and regulations that pertain to recruits or enrolled student-athletes. Issues may be directed to:

Al Papik
Senior Associate Athletic Director/
Compliance Coordinator
203 South Stadium
Lincoln, NE 68588-0219
(402) 472-3116

Thank you for your support of Nebraska athletics. We ask for your continued interest and cooperation in abiding by the rules and guidelines set forth to insure the well being and eligibility of our student-athletes. Help us maintain the highest standard of ethical excellence as we strive for continued performance excellence.

Enjoy another year of Nebraska athletics.....Husker Style!

Bill Byrne,
Director of Athletics

IT'S OFFICIAL

CORNHUSKER FANS

Hello, this is Keith Jackson. Collegiate athletics is one of the greatest sports traditions.

The pageantry and spectacle of a college football game, the buzzer-beating heroics of a basketball championship, individual achievement and team effort come together for the most memorable moments in all of sport.

Help support that great tradition and your university by purchasing officially licensed collegiate products. Look for the "Officially Licensed Collegiate Products" label to ensure that a portion of the purchase price goes to support programs and students at your University. You also can be sure that the product has met the University's standards for quality.

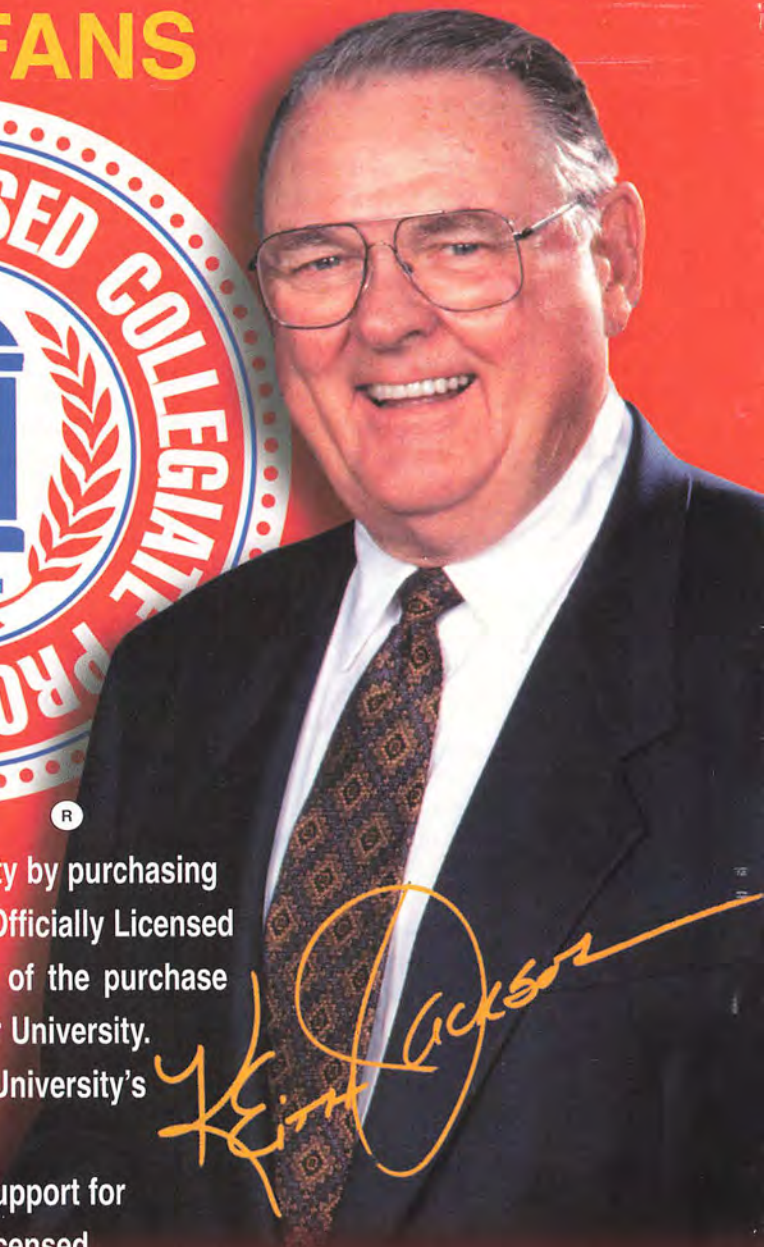

Great traditions, great quality and solid financial support for students and programs...that's what the "Officially Licensed Collegiate Products" label means.

For additional information regarding this licensing program contact The Collegiate Licensing Company at (770) 956-0520.

Priority Points System

In situations where demand exceeds supply for tickets to athletic events, the Priority Points System is used to determine who will receive tickets, as well as quality and seat location. The points system takes into consideration both past and current contributions. Points are accumulated as follows:

- Three points for every $100 of current giving.
- One point for every $100 of past giving.
- Ten points to dues paying Alumni N-Club members.
- Active donor club members only receive points.

If you would like to join a donor club, please contact Jack Pierce, Paul Meyers or Blake James in the Athletic Development Office at (402) 472-2367.

Hey, Wildcats. You've got it all this year. A great team. The Huskers late in the season. It's perfect. You'll probably come within two touchdowns of Nebraska this time. As Joe Theismann once said, "Nobody in football should be called a genius. A genius is a guy like Norman Einstein." Steve Spurrier, Florida coach, was telling Gator fans that a fire in the Auburn football dorm destroyed 20 books. "But the real tragedy was that 15 hadn't been colored yet."

Registration

Boys who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades next fall are eligible to attend the Big Red Football School. The fee is $185. An advance registration deposit of $100 must accompany each application. The balance is due at registration time. There will be no refund of fees after the athlete has been accepted in school. Housing is provided in one of the University's residence halls, where breakfast, lunch and dinner are included in the $185 fee.

Campers that live close to the University may stay with their parents if approved—an adjustment in fees will be made in this case. Attached is an application form which should be filled out and sent at once to: Big Red Football School, 217 South Stadium, P.O. Box 880125, Lincoln, NE 68588. Make checks payable to: Big Red Football School.

Sessions

During each session, Frank Solich and his staff will give personal instruction on individual techniques and fundamentals daily from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Lectures will be given after lunch by Coach Solich (motivation) and Nebraska's strength coach, Boyd Epley (strength training). Evening sessions will be devoted to specialty work and team competition. During the camp you will also have the opportunity to lift weights under the supervision of Boyd Epley and his staff. Although all four sessions are individual camps, groups of players or teams are encouraged to attend.

NOTE: Each session is limited. Get your application in early.

Home games in bold and played at the Abbott Sports Complex, located 1 1/2 miles north of Cornhusker Highway on 70th St.

The Nebraska soccer team will shoot for its third consecutive top 10 national finish in 1998, after a final No. 7 national ranking in 1997 and No. 6 ranking in 1996.

The Huskers' hopes for their first trip to the NCAA semifinals were dealt a blow on July 19 with the loss of junior midfielder Jenny Benson with a torn anterior cruciate ligament in her right knee. Along with Benson, who was a U.S. Under-20 National Team member, senior defender Heather Brown and freshman defender Karla Ledford also may miss the season with knee injuries. Junior All-America forward Lindsay Eddleman will miss the start of the season after breaking the fifth metatarsal bone in her left foot just two days before Benson suffered her knee injury. Eddleman could return to the Husker lineup by late-September.

Despite the injuries, Coach John Walker remains optimistic about the Huskers' chances to make their third consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Kim Engesser returns after leading the nation with 26 goals last season. The senior forward finished with a Husker single-season record 55 points in 1997. Senior midfielders Becky Hogan and Kristen Gay will provide consistency and experience in their fourth seasons as starters. Junior Amy Walsh, who was the Huskers' fifth-leading point-scorer in 1997, could be expected to fill the scoring void left by the graduation of All-America midfielder Kari Uppinghouse.

Third-team All-America defender Sharolta Nonen will lead the Husker defense, along with Isabelle Morneau and Christine Gluck. Sophomore goalkeepers Karina LeBlanc and Jackie Erdkamp will see their first starting action, replacing graduated All-American Rebecca Hornbacher. Sandy Smith, Lauren Tatum and Julie Greco will challenge for starting duties and provide depth along with a talented freshman class that includes high school All-Americans Kelly Rheem and Meghan Anderson, Canadian National Team member Shannon Tanaka, Arizona all-stater Najah Williams, Nebraska all-stater Becky Preston and California prep star Danica Carey.

Home matches in bold at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

For the first time since the 1994-95 season, Nebraska enters the wrestling season without the luxury of at least one returning All-American.

The Huskers concluded that season with five All-Americans, a national champion and a sixth-place team finish at the NCAA Championships. Nebraska Coach Tim Neumann is hoping for similar production this season.

Despite the lack of All-Americans on the Husker roster, Nebraska's cupboard is far from bare. The Huskers will be led by a talented group of young and hungry wrestlers led by 1998 Big 12 Champion Brad Vering, who became only the third Husker to win a conference title as a freshman. After finishing with a 33-9 record in 1997-98, Vering will be expected to challenge for All-America honors and a national title as a sophomore.

The Huskers should also be strong at heavyweight with the return of J.R. Plenis. The sophomore from Edgemere, Md., finished with a 31-13 record last season to join Vering in becoming the first freshman duo in Husker history to win 30 matches in the same season.

Junior Paul Gomez (125) will contend for All-America honors after posting a 19-13 mark in his first season as a Husker. Gomez was the 1996 NJCAA champion at Lassen Community College. Senior Jose DeAnda (141) could also push for national honors.

Senior Scott Munson (197) could also contend for conference and All-America honors after backing up three-time All-American Ryan Tobin. Munson may be pushed by true freshman Justin Ruiz (197), one of the nation's top recruits.

Sophomores Todd Beckerman and Charles McTorry, who were NCAA qualifiers in 1997, will look to return to nationals after redshirting last season. Redshirt freshmen Joe and Josh Henson, Bryan Snyder and Tony Denke will battle to fill spots in the Husker lineup at the middle weights.

1999 Husker Men's Gymnastics

Head Coach: Francis Allen (30th season)
1998 Record: 16-6
Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 6/1

With six returning letterwinners, including a three-time NCAA champion and two other All-Americans, the Nebraska men's gymnastics team will look for its NCAA record ninth national title in 1999.

The Huskers will be led by all-arounders Derek Leiter and Jason Hardabura, and by three-time NCAA champion Marshall Nelson.

Leiter earned All-America honors in the all-around, as he placed fourth at the NCAA Championships with a score of 57.075, one of six scores above 57 during the 1998 season. The junior from Lincoln was ranked first in the nation on vault for much of the season and was nationally ranked in five events last season. Leiter also qualified for the U.S. Championships.

Hardabura, a sophomore, will look to build on his freshman year in which he finished ninth at the NCAA Championships. His finish was the highest among all freshmen in 1998. During the season, Hardabura scored a 56 or higher in each of his last eight all-around performances, including a 57.975, the highest score by a freshman in school history. Hardabura, a former member of the Canadian National Team, won the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation floor exercise title and scored a 9.55 or higher in each of the six events last year.

One of the finest individual event performers in school history, Nelson has earned six All-America honors, on four different events, during his three-year career, winning back-to-back NCAA parallel bars titles in 1997 and 1998. The Greeley, Colo., native is one of the favorites for the Nissen Award, presented to the top senior gymnast in the nation. In 1998, Nelson was nationally ranked in four events and was the 1998 MPSF Gymnast of the Year.

Senior Jim Koziol and juniors Blake Bukacek and Manuel Galarza gives three-time NCAA Coach-of-the-Year Francis Allen great optimism heading into the season. Koziol made a tremendous return after missing the 1997 season, placing fourth in the still rings to earn his first All-America award. Koziol, a three-year letterwinner from Omaha, will also provide depth on other events, including floor exercise, where he was an NCAA qualifier last year, and pommel horse.

Bukacek, a two-time NCAA qualifier on the horizontal bar, set personal bests on four of his five events, including a 9.70 on the horizontal bar and a 9.70 on pommel horse. A Lincoln

High graduate, Bukacek has been a key contributor on five events for the past two seasons. Galarza, who transferred from Syracuse just before the 1998 season, provided depth on still rings and parallel bars. The junior had a season-high score of 9.575 at the MPSF Championships and made great strides during the second half of the season.

The Husker lineup will be bolstered by the addition of freshman Martin Fournier, a member of the Canadian National Team for the past two seasons. He will be expected to contribute to the Huskers all-around lineup.

The Huskers will have the home court advantage by playing host to the NCAA Championships April 22-24 at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. NU has placed either first or second every time the Huskers have hosted the NAAs, including its eighth NCAA title in 1994.

1999 Husker Women's Gymnastics

Head Coach: Dan Kendig (sixth season)
1998 Record: 14-4; Big 12 Champions
Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 10/0

After winning its fifth consecutive conference title in 1998, the Nebraska women's gymnastics team brings back the entire squad for a run at a national title this season.

The Huskers return all 10 letterwinners from last season and regain the services of junior Amie Dillman in their quest to return to nationals after not qualifying last spring. Dillman, one of the Huskers' top vaulters and floor exercise performers two seasons ago, should return to the floor exercise lineup this season after missing all of 1998 with knee injuries.

Nebraska will look to All-Americans Heather Brink and Misty Oxford and one of the deepest senior classes in recent memory to provide leadership. Brink became the first NU female gymnast to win an all-around title at regionals, scoring a 39.475 to qualify for the NCAA Championships. A Lincoln native, Brink tied three school records at the Big 12 Championships, including all-around score (39.575), vault (9.95) and uneven bars (9.95). Brink, a three-time All-American, was nationally ranked on uneven bars, vault and in the all-around in 1998.

A senior, Oxford was the Big 12 runner-up in the all-around and the conference champion on floor exercise. She was also nationally ranked in the all-around and on floor exercise. In 1997, the Kelso, Wash., native earned All-America honors in three events and set school records on vault and on floor exercise. Both Oxford and Brink set career bests in the all-around last season in helping NU post a 14-4 mark.

Seniors Courtney Brown, Laurie McLaughlin and Jess Swift will be counted on heavily, as NU looks for its sixth straight conference title. An All-Big 12 selection, Brown is one of NU's top performers on balance beam and floor exercise, setting career highs on both events last season. McLaughlin, an All-Big 12 honoree in 1997, has been one of NU's most consistent performers on both the balance beam and the uneven bars for the past three seasons. After primarily playing a reserve role during her first two seasons, Swift earned a starting spot in the vault, uneven bars and floor exercise lineup, setting career highs in all three events in 1998. On floor exercise, Swift scored a career best of 9.85 at the Midwest Regional.

Juniors Nicole Wilkinson and Laura Ohlendorf and sophomore Amy Ringo give Coach Dan Kendig a variety of options in his lineup. Wilkinson earned All-Big 12 honors in three individual events and in the all-around last season and took first in the all-around at the 1998 Masters Classic. Ohlendorf had been hampered for much of the past two seasons, but is expected to be healthy. Ohlendorf will look to earn spots in the uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercise lineups. After a slow start, Ringo was one of NU's top gymnasts by the end of the season, posting the team's best balance beam score (9.825) at regionals, while setting a personal best of 9.75 on vault.

Juniors Alisha and Arice Lamb and sophomores Kathy Ligon and Stacie Sizer will provide depth, while incoming freshmen Bree Dority and Laura Goss give Kendig tremendous optimism heading into the fall.

1998 Husker Men's Cross Country

Coach: Jay Dirksen (16th season)

1997 Big 12 Finish: fourth

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 7/2

It took an entire season for the 1997 Nebraska men's cross country team to prove its worth to the rest of the nation. It was on the eve of the race, in which NU finished 11th at the NCAA Championships, that people wondered how Nebraska received an invitation to run. This year could pose a similar challenge with more skeptics, as NU continues to assemble one of the best schedules in the nation, believing that competing with the best only can make one better.

"We kind of surprised some people last year," Nebraska Head Coach Jay Dirksen said. "This year there is going to be a lot of people that will doubt our team, but I think we have the chance to be fairly successful."

Gone from last year's squad are the No. 1 and No. 3 runners, All-American Cleophas Boor and captain Aaron Johnson. Boor, a two-time All-American, left Nebraska as one of the most prolific runners in school history. Replacing two runners among the top five won't be easy, but NU has significant talent returning.

Back from last season's 11th-place team are All-American Jeroen Broekzitter, three-time letterwinner Lou Petricca and sophomore Marcus Witter. Two other familiar faces are also expected to return to the lineup. Philip Maiyo and Jim Vance (both among the teams' top five runners in 1996) are coming off redshirt seasons.

As usual, the schedule is loaded with competition. It begins Sept. 19 at Lincoln's own Pioneers Park when NU plays host to an expanded field, included several Big 12 schools, at the Woody Greeno Invitational. The following week NU will be in Minneapolis, Minn., for one of the toughest competitions in the nation, the Roy Griak Invitational. On Oct. 10, the Huskers will travel to Lawrence, Kan., the site of the 1998 NCAA Championships, to compete in the Pre-NCAA Invitational, which will feature the top teams from around the country and should boast a field second only to the NCAA meet. Two weeks later, NU will be in Eugene, Ore., for the Oregon Invitational, which will introduce the Huskers to some of the best competition in the Pacific-10 Conference.

"Our schedule was really tough last year and that's what helped us qualify for nationals," Dirksen said. "Competing against the best only makes you better and our guys look forward to that challenge."

On Oct. 31, NU will play host to the third Big 12 Conference Championships. The Big 12, perennially one of the toughest conferences in the nation, qualified four teams for the NCAA Championships last season, all of which finished among the top 15, including third-place Colorado. According to Dirksen, Colorado returns a strong team and enters as the favorite, while Iowa State, Oklahoma State and Missouri each appear to have a number of talented runners.

On Nov. 14, NU will run in what will be the most important meet of the season, the 1998 NCAA Midwest Regional, held in Wichita, Kan. The top two finishers from eight regions around the country automatically qualify for the NCAA Championships. In addition, six at-large bids are given, based on performances throughout the season. Last year, NU finished third at the Midwest Regional meet, but earned an at-large bid. Iowa State, the fourth-place team from the Midwest Region was also granted a berth. The region is headed this year by strong teams from Iowa State, Minnesota and Missouri, keeping NU's hands full in its attempt to qualify for nationals for the third consecutive season.

1998 Husker Women's Cross Country

Coach: Jay Dirksen (16th season)

1997 Big 12 Finish: second

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 7/1

Nebraska Head Coach Jay Dirksen describes the upcoming cross country season as "optimistic" when considering his women's team. The engineer of the program for the past 15 years has good reason to describe the team in such a manner, as eight runners return with previous NCAA Championships experience, including NU's top five runners from the second-place 1997 NCAA Midwest Regional team.

Nebraska has qualified for the NCAA Championships, as a team, in six of the past seven seasons, finishing no lower than 20th and placing 12th in 1991. NU's best days at the national meet were a pair of third-place finishes in 1988 and 1989. Coach Dirksen said this team has the potential to once again crack the top 15.

"I think that our team knows what it is up against," Dirksen said. "Potentially, we have an opportunity to be a lot better than we were last season."

Among the eight letterwinners returning, are Amy Wiseman, Jaime Pauli, Kate Centerwall, Melinda Mohr, Melissa Wilson and Amie Finkner, all of whom have finished in the top 30 at a regional contest. Over the past two seasons, NU has garnered a reputation for running as a team, and Coach Dirksen predicts there could be a lot of trading places among the top seven runners.

The Huskers will have several opportunities to test their talent, as well as their depth, as an all-star schedule awaits in the fall. Competition begins on Sept. 19, when NU plays host to the Woody Greeno Invitational. Traditionally a gathering for the smaller non-university schools around the area, the Woody Greeno has attracted a host of Big 12 teams, as they prepare for the Big 12 Championships in Lincoln on Oct. 31.

The week following the Woody Greeno, NU makes their annual trip to Minneapolis, Minn., for the Roy Griak Invite, a meet which annually draws the top competition in the country. Two weeks later, Nebraska heads to Lawrence, Kan., the site of the 1998 NCAA Championships, to run in the Pre-NCAA Invitational, which is expected to boast the toughest field of the season aside from the NCAA meet. On Oct. 17, NU will be in Eugene, Ore., for the Oregon Invitational, which will provide competition from prime Pacific-10 opponents.

"We are going to find every meet to be a challenge," Dirksen said. "How they meet that challenge is going to determine how good they are."

NU will run again in Lincoln when the entire Big 12 Conference arrives for the Big 12 Championships. The conference annually proves itself to be one of the toughest nationally, as four teams were represented last year at the NCAA Championships, including Colorado, which placed third. Dirksen expects the Buffaloes, the defending Big 12 champions, to be the favorite with Nebraska, Baylor and Missouri all vying for the upset.

On Nov. 14, the Huskers will be in Wichita, Kan., for the Midwest Regional meet where they must finish among the top two teams for an automatic berth to the NCAA meet. If they fail to place among the top two, they still stand a chance at qualifying with an at-large bid. Dirksen forecasts NU to be one of the favorites in the regional, along with Minnesota, Missouri and Wichita State.

With eight letterwinners back and the addition of four newcomers, NU will have sufficient firepower to attack the schedule.

1998 Husker Men's and Women's Cross Country Schedule:

Sept. 5-- at Bearcat Distance Classic; Sept. 19 --Woody Greeno/Nebraska Invitational; Sept. 26 --at Roy Griak Invitational; Oct. 10 -- at Pre NCAA Invitational; Oct. 17 -- at Oregon Invitational; Oct. 17 -- at Tiger Invitational; Oct. 31-- Big 12 Championships; Nov. 14 -- at NCAA District 5 Championships; Nov. 23 -- at NCAA Championships

Home meets take place at Pioneer's Park and are underlined and in bold.

1970 National Champions — (11-0-1)

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, which, in the case of the 1970 season, was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas; they deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which the team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later. Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, however slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army, 28-0, the next week, to begin what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma, 28-21, at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas, 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State, 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from 1 yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

Husker quarterback Jerry Tagge stretches the ball over the goal line for the winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl victory over Louisiana State.

AT&T PRESENTS: CHAMPIONSHIPS WITHIN REACH

POLL-AR OPPOSITES

Michigan and Nebraska settled for getting voted a share of the National Title, despite New Year's Day wins.

Their undefeated records had already been etched into the history books following bowl game wins, but Michigan and Nebraska's final hierarchical status still lingered.

The Wolverines fought past Washington State (No. 7 USA Today/ESPN; No. 8 Associated Press) 21-16 in the Rose Bowl, while Nebraska blew out No. 3 Tennessee 42-17 in the Orange Bowl now all each team could do was wait and pray.

Both teams stood at the mercy of the pollsters for their permanent spot in the annals of college football history.

The verdict left fans as divided as the championship itself. Nebraska edged Michigan — 1,520 to 1,516 — in the USA Today/ESPN coaches poll, giving them a share of the national title. Michigan supporters cried heresy, as the Wolverines had 53.5 first-place votes to Nebraska's 8.5 in the poll before the bowls. And considering Michigan won the Associated Press Poll by 33 votes, many thought the coaches who vote in the poll gave outgoing Nebraska coaching legend Tom Osborne a retirement gift.

As Michigan quarterback Brian Griese pointed out after the Rose Bowl, "We played the toughest schedule in the country by far. To come to the Rose Bowl and play a very tough Washington State team, I ask you: Is there anything else you want us to do?"

Maybe the coaches were looking for Michigan to pummel Washington State the way Nebraska routed Tennessee in the Orange Bowl.

Having seen Michigan squeak by the previous day, Nebraska knew they had to win impressively. The Cornhuskers capitalized on three early Volunteer turnovers to jump out to a 14-0 lead, while Vols' quarterback Peyton Manning, the Heisman runner-up, didn't get UT into the end zone until Nebraska had opened an insurmountable 28-3 lead.

Meanwhile, Nebraska's oft-maligned senior quarterback Scott Frost led the Huskers with three touchdown runs and senior tailback Ahman Green added two touchdown runs of his own.

Nebraska's bowl dominance cloaked a regular season performance that raised skepticism as to their place in the National Championship picture. Nebraska's out-of-conference opponents included sub-500 Division I foes Akron and Central Florida, who actually led at halftime in Lincoln. Nebraska also pulled out an overtime win at Missouri, forcing the extra session on a freak touchdown on the game's final play.

Led by Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson, everything came up roses in Pasadena for top-ranked Michigan...

...but the coaches' poll showered retiring Nebraska coach Tom Osborne with praise and a split national title.

After the Orange Bowl embarrassment of Tennessee, Frost challenged the pollsters. "I don't think there's anybody out there with a clear conscience who can say that Nebraska and that great man, Tom Osborne, doesn't deserve a national championship for this — at least a share."

Michigan, too, was challenged during the 1997 season, but by much tougher opponents. They held on against Notre Dame and blew out Colorado while toppling Big 10 powers Ohio State, Penn State and Michigan State.

At the Rose Bowl, Michigan had its hands full with stubborn Washington State trailing most of the game before coming back to win. Griese threw three touchdown passes, two of them over 50 yards. Heisman winner Charles Woodson made a crucial end zone interception of Ryan Leaf, which kept the Wolverines' deficit at 7-0.

Trailing 13-7 in the third quarter (Michigan's James Hall had blocked a Cougar extra point), Griese connected with Tai Streets for a 58-yard touchdown, the team's longest touchdown reception of the season.

Michigan worked the clock on its next drive, eating up 5:25 before Griese hit tight end Jerame Tuman for a 23-yard score. Washington State managed another field goal, but then allowed Michigan to use up 6:56 on a 16-play drive that ended in a pooch punt.

Washington State managed one final threat in the waning seconds, getting into Michigan territory on a controversial pass interference call. Leaf spiked the ball trying to get a time out, but instead, time ran out.

The impending split is almost guaranteed to be the last of its kind. Under the conditions of the new Bowl Championship Series, the Fiesta Bowl will be the first in a rotating series of bowl games that hosts a national championship game.

Under the new system, the Big 10 and Pac 10 join the other major conferences, and their teams will be factored into a complicated mathematical formula to determine a No. 1 vs. No. 2 matchup.

With the new system implemented, there is a formula for a clear-cut national champion as opposed to a mythical one voted on by coaches and sportswriters.

No longer will fans have to wonder, "What could have been?" when two teams the caliber of the 1997 Nebraska and Michigan clubs run the table but do not get to face each other in a bowl game.

1971 National Champions — (13-0)

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (Nov. 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game. But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a fourth-down, Jack Mildren pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn themselves a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. It left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and, most likely, a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards per game on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers—as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners in Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press pre-season rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense. "As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

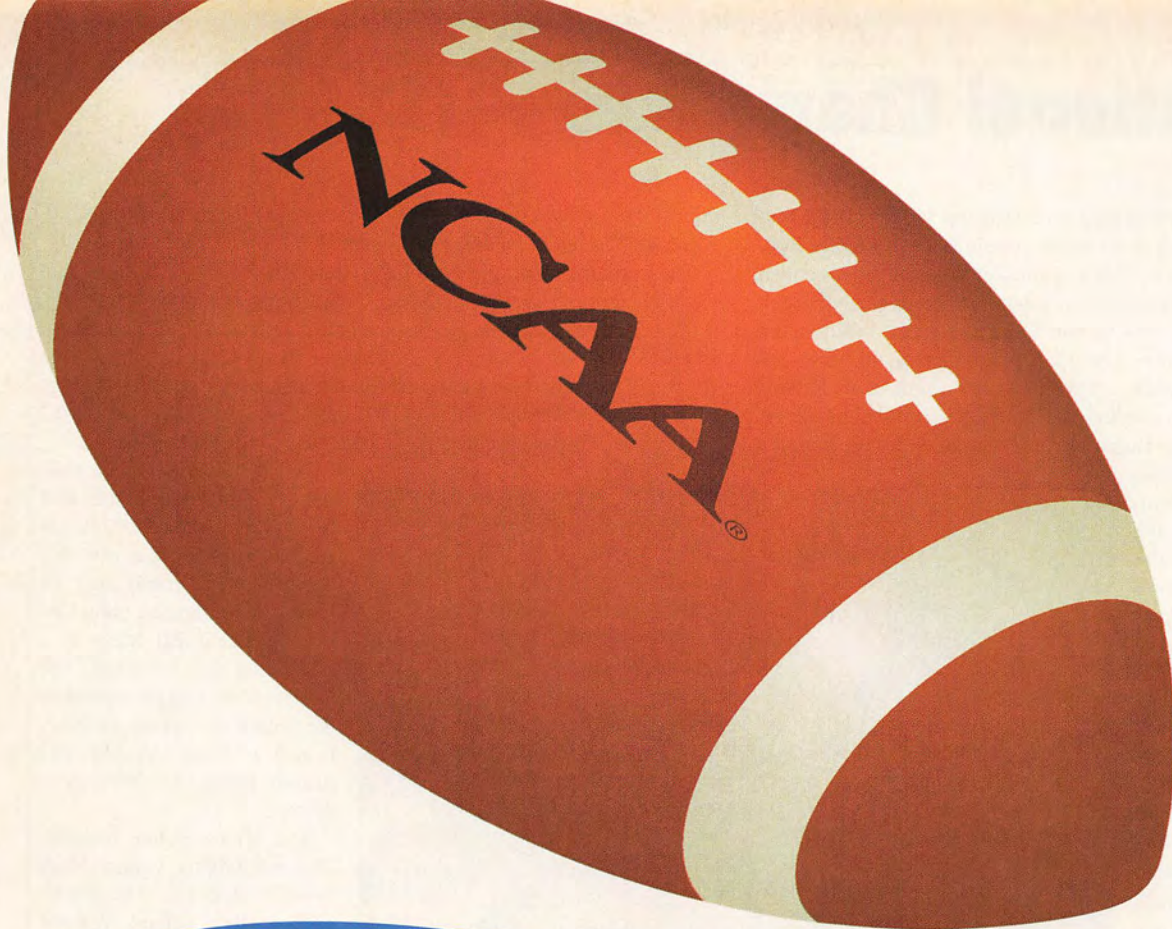

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971. Rodgers made a name for himself as a junior in 1971 before winning the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

1994 National Champions — (13-0)

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan in a game that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant, a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense, and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic

All-Big Eight who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

Coach Osborne receives a victory hoist from Jon Vedral and Kareem Moss after the Huskers defeated Miami in the Orange Bowl for Osborne's first national title.

1995 National Champions — (12-0)

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion — something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21).

After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4), and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team all-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight first-team offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

JUST FOR THE GUYS™

Priority Mail™ Presents...

When all the ballots were delivered

Answering the question who is the best college football player in the country has always been subjective. The early years of the Heisman Trophy produced several close races, and occasionally raised eyebrows. Three of the most interesting races came in 1945, 1956 and 1961.

The year 1945 saw the victorious end of World War II, while in college football, Army sought a second consecutive national championship.

Leading Army's efforts were Felix "Doc" Blanchard, a powerful 6-0, 205-pound fullback, nicknamed "Mr. Inside", and Glenn Davis, a swift 5-9, 170-pound halfback, nicknamed "Mr. Outside."

Both were consensus All-Americans in 1944, but Davis finished second, Blanchard third in the Heisman voting.

The stage was set for a climatic Heisman race in 1945.

With Blanchard and Davis leading the way, Army recorded a second 9-0 season and captured the national championship. They combined for 223 of Army's 412 points.

With the highest concentration of voters located in the East and Midwest, the Heisman essentially came down to Blanchard or Davis.

Blanchard led the country, scoring 19 touchdowns, one better than Davis. He also rushed for 718 yards (a 7.1 yard average). Davis amassed 943 rushing yards with an extraordinary 11.5 yard rushing average.

What may have given Blanchard a slight edge was his stellar play on defense, where he set an NCAA single-season record with three interceptions returned for touchdowns.

When all the ballots were delivered, most of the 848 voters decided upon Blanchard, making him the first junior to win the Heisman Trophy. His 860 points outdistanced Davis' 638, who finished second again.

It represents the only time in the award's history that teammates finished first and second in the final voting. Davis would finally capture the coveted Heisman in 1946.

Arguably the most controversial finish came in 1956, when Notre Dame's Paul Hornung became the only Heisman winner from a losing team.

The "Golden Boy" edged out a superb field, featuring Tennessee's Johnny Majors and Oklahoma teammates Tommy McDonald and Jerry Tubbs.

DOWN TO THE WIRE

The unpredictability of the voters in the Heisman Trophy balloting is what made the 1945, 1956 and 1961 races so interesting.

After completing a sparkling 1955 junior season for the 8-2 Fighting Irish, Hornung occupied a preseason stronghold in the minds of Heisman voters as 1956 opened.

The Fighting Irish would struggle all season, but Hornung was heroic in defeat. After playing quarterback for the first six games of the season, Hornung was moved to halfback and fullback because dislocations of both his thumbs made handling the snaps from center extremely difficult.

Hornung labored through a difficult 2-8 Notre Dame campaign, the worst in the school's history, but finished second nationally in individual offense, and led his team in rushing, passing, scoring, kickoff returns, punt returns, punting, playing time, and pass break-ups.

Hot in the hunt for the Heisman were tailback McDonald and Tubbs from the No. 1 Sooners. Ironically, McDonald's teammate Tubbs, an outstanding center and linebacker, may have cost him the votes needed to surpass Hornung.

Meanwhile, Majors led No. 2 Tennessee to a 10-0 record, as a tailback in the single-wing formation on offense and at safety on defense.

When all the ballots were delivered, Hornung emerged victorious with 1,066 points, followed closely by Majors (994), McDonald (973) and Tubbs (724).

Prior to the 1961 season, no African American had ever won the Heisman. That would change in 1961, as Syracuse tailback Ernie Davis and Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson, both African American, were the frontrunners.

The 6-2, 212-pound Davis established his presence on the national scene two years earlier as a sophomore, leading Syracuse to a perfect 11-0 season and its only national championship. He followed that with an outstanding junior season, 877 yards (7.8 yards per carry).

Davis started slowly due to leg injuries and a bruised shoulder incurred in the season opener.

But Davis played a vital role as Syracuse finished strong, winning four of its final five games to earn a bowl bid. He finished the season with team-highs in rushing yards (823) and receptions (16 for 157 yards), 15 touchdowns and two interceptions — one returned 73 yards and another for a 61-yard score. He also returned punts and kickoffs.

Ferguson, led Ohio State Buckeyes to their 10th undisputed Big Ten title, terrorizing opponents with his running and his blocking. Ferguson amassed a team-high 938 rushing yards and 11 touchdowns for the season. In fact, he only lost two yards in 202 rushing attempts.

When all the ballots were delivered, Davis attracted the most first-place votes to win the second-closest race in the Heisman history, totaling 824 points to Ferguson's 771.

Tragically, Davis never got the chance to play professional football. He fell ill with leukemia in the summer of 1962 and died at the age of 23.

1997 National Champions — (13-0)

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early-morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news. "By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be...I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution.

That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee. "I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas.

Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in early November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons.

Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996.

Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense.

Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which were second in the nation. His yards also ranked second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a

I-back Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The victory gave Nebraska its third national title in the 1990s.

deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

Stadium Improvements Well Underway

By Shane Ury

In what marks the 76th season of its existence, Memorial Stadium, the home of the Huskers, is once again under a stage of improvement. After beginning construction in 1997, the newest addition to one of Nebraska's most cherished landmarks is well underway. A $36.1 million project, including the addition of 42 skyboxes, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, a new press box and renovated concourses will soon grace Memorial Stadium and the field which it encompasses, recently named for retired head coach Tom Osborne, by the beginning of the 1999 season.

Plans were drawn up in 1996, while the construction began last November, one day after the Huskers' victory over Iowa State. The final pieces of steel were laid on Tuesday, Aug. 18, while work will continue through the fall as the precast panels continue to go up on the west side and the east side windows are fitted in late October.

When completed, each of the skyboxes will house 25 spectators on game day. The suites, measuring 24 feet x 29 feet, are complete with 20 seats, a couch and lounge area complete with a sink, along with a bathroom and coat area. According to Nebraska's Director of Athletics, Bill Byrne, NU's skyboxes will be among the best in the nation.

"We traveled to more than a dozen stadiums, both at the collegiate and the professional levels in looking at various options," Byrne said. "When they are completed next year, our skyboxes will compare very favorably with any in the United States."

Of the 42 skyboxes, 40 were made available for the public with two boxes reserved for University use. Unfortunately, for those waiting, all the skyboxes have been reserved.

Club seating in the balcony is set to expand from approximately 350 to over 1,500 and the entire 300 level on the second floor of the press box will be recreated. The 300 level will also have an expanded lobby area and the stadium view lounge. The expanded concourses on the ground level will give Memorial Stadium a complete face lift from the west side, doubling the walkway space on ground level and tripling the number of rest rooms once inside the stadium.

The new press box will be expanded for the more than 100 media members that visit Memorial Stadium every Saturday. Currently, the press box seats 125 members of the press, while the window viewing area is approximately 95 feet in length. The new press box will seat roughly 200 members of the media, while the window area will cover 200 feet from north to south. The facilities will include dedicated TV truck docks, cable rooms and a state-of-the-art TV broadcast booth. These changes will allow NU to easily handle national media requests.

Upon completion, the current Memorial Stadium improvements, combined with several recent renovations, will have benefitted the facility a great deal. Before the current construction, NU added two DiamondVision screens, now known as HuskerVision, just before the start of the 1994 campaign. In 1994, Memorial Stadium began an ongoing concrete restoration and waterproofing project. The following season, a remodeled South Stadium and new interview room and player lounge were completed. Last year, the East Concourse was renovated with new restrooms and concessions, and permanent lights were installed on the east side.

Following the completion of the skyboxes, new press box and concourses, Memorial Stadium will continue to be one of the finest collegiate football stadiums in the nation.

Academics have always been an important part of the student-athlete's career at Nebraska. One of the highest honors is to be named to the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America team, along with other top student-athletes across the nation. To qualify, athletes must be a leading contributor to the team and post a 3.2 cumulative grade-point average. Nebraska had three first-team selections in 1997-98, four second teamers and one third teamer. The Husker football team had two players named to the first team and three more selected to the second team. In the past 25 seasons, the Huskers have accumulated 46 first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, including 10 two-time honorees. Overall, Nebraska has produced a nation-leading 52 first-team Academic All-Americans in football.

The highest honor of all is to be named to the NCAA Today's Top Eight. Nine Husker football players have received this honor, the most honorees for any program in any sport in the country. In 1997, rush end Grant Wistrom earned recognition for his academic achievements by being named to the list, giving Nebraska 13 in all, including nine Top Eight winners in the 1990s.

Did You Know...

◆ Nebraska leads the nation in all sports and in football first-team GTE Academic All-Americans with 90 and 52, respectively.

◆ Across all teams and all sports, NU leads the nation with 157 first-, second- and third-team GTE Academic All-Americans, 50 more than second-place Notre Dame.

◆ Nebraska has produced 52 first-team football GTE Academic All-Americans, 14 more than second-place Notre Dame. Only three schools have produced more than 30 first-team football academic All-Americans.

◆ Nine Husker football players, including 1997 winner Grant Wistrom, have received the NCAA's highest honor for student-athletes -- selection as one of Today's Top Eight. That's the most for any individual sports program in the country and NU's 13 selections for all sports also leads the nation.

Huskers Hungry For Chance at Second Championship

By Aaron Babcock

There is a reason Nebraska Head Coach Terry Pettit is regarded as one of the most creative coaches in college volleyball. Pettit's ability to shape and mold offensive and defensive schemes around his players' strengths has already been demonstrated by his success in building the most respected volleyball program in the country.

Even with his recent success, the 1998 season looks to be a special one.

After leading the Huskers to a pair of Final Four appearances in the past three seasons, including the 1995 NCAA national championship, Pettit and the Nebraska coaching staff are preparing what could be one of the most lethal teams in recent history.

Nebraska returns five starters and 13 letterwinners from a 1997 squad that posted a 27-7 record and advanced to the NCAA Pacific Regional finals. Gone from that team is three-time All-America outside hitter Lisa Reitsma. The 1996 Big 12 Conference Player-of-the-Year finished a stellar career by finishing among the Husker top 10 in seven different statistical categories.

Despite losing Reitsma, who accounted for nearly 30 percent (561-of-1966) of Nebraska's kills in 1997, Pettit is confident this year's team will be even more powerful offensively.

Senior All-America candidate Megan Korver averaged 1.30 blocks-per game last season.

Senior Fiona Nepo of Honolulu, Hawaii, will continue to hold the reins as the Cornhuskers' confident commander. Nepo has been a mainstay in the Husker offense for the past three seasons and enters her senior season as one of the top players in the NCAA ranks.

After spending the summer playing with the U.S. National Team, Nepo charges into the '98 season looking to etch her name among a long list of legendary Husker setters. She could become the first Nebraska setter to be named a three-time All-American and is on pace to shatter the Nebraska career assist record. A two-year starter, Nepo has recorded 3,293 career assists and needs just 494 assists to break the record set by Husker assistant coach Nikki Best (1990-93).

"One of our strengths is that we begin with one of the top setters in the country," said Pettit. "Fiona trained this summer in Colorado Springs with the national team, and I think she left that experience with even more confidence in how good she is and how good she can be. She's so in tune with what we want to get done, that she will be a multidimensional leader. She has the potential to lead in a way that raises the level of play of everyone around her."

Nepo will be joined by All-America candidate Megan Korver. Korver, a 6-1 middle blocker from Panama, Neb., will key the Husker offensive attack after averaging 3.02 kills-per game and holding a .296 hitting percentage a year ago. Korver has developed into a versatile player for the Huskers and showed her potential to dominate by recording a career-best 22 kills against Pacific in the Nebraska Coliseum last season. Pettit says that Korver has become a solid all-around player and looks to have an outstanding senior season.

Korver will also be expected to provide a solid defensive game at the net after tying for the team lead with 1.30 blocks per game as a junior.

Senior Jaime Krondak, a 6-0 outside hitter from Lincoln East, rounds out the trio of talented seniors. Krondak is one of the most versatile players on the team, but struggled with injuries as a junior. Sidelined with a back injury for 10 matches during the 1997 season, Krondak's health will be a key factor to the success of this year's squad.

Krondak averaged 2.81 kills-per game before her injury and still finished third on the team with 25 service aces. Krondak has a knack for stepping up in big matches. Last season, she posted 17 kills against Florida in Gainesville.

"Jaime does a lot of things that allow us to win matches," Pettit said. "She is certainly one of the best servers we've ever had at Nebraska."

Pettit's three seniors will be assisted by a talented group of underclassmen. In fact, Pettit says this year's strength lies in the team's depth and experience.

"This is our most experienced team since the Senior Jaime Krondak is one of three seniors on this year's squad looking to lead Nebraska to its second national championship.

1995 championship team," said Pettit. "We have ten years of starting experience between six players, and that means a lot. We can also go down to our 11th and 12th players. They are good ball players, understand their roles and know they can have an impact on a match."

Tonia Tauke, a 6-3 junior middle blocker out of Council Bluffs, Iowa, returns after earning the starting nod as a sophomore.

Tauke (pronounced TAUW-key) had an outstanding sophomore season and tied for the team's best hitting percentage with a .302 mark. She ranked third on the team in block assists (100), total blocks (114) and blocks per game (1.20).

Tauke has already established herself as one of the team's emotional leaders on the court, and according to Pettit, has improved her court presence during the past two seasons.

Mandy Monson is the fourth returning starter in the Husker lineup. The 6-0 junior outside hitter held down the starting role and proved to be a solid contributor for the Huskers.

In fact, according to Pettit, her talent often goes unnoticed.

"She is one of the most underrated players in the country," Pettit said. "She is a great athlete who has become a great volleyball player. She can wear an opponent down with a lot of the things she does."

Monson is one of the top passers on the team and led Nebraska with her 3.25 digs per game as a sophomore. She was also consistent at the net and averaged 2.82 kills per game while holding a .253 hitting percentage.

Sophomore Angie Oxley is the fifth returning starter for Coach Pettit. Oxley immediately established herself as one of the top underclassmen in the region coming out of a redshirt season, 17 matches into the season. Oxley, a 6-0 outside hitter from Ogallala, Neb., was named the Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year

Three Seniors Return for Run at Second National Title

Two-time All-America setter Fiona Nepo needs only 494 assists to set the school record for assists.

after starting the final 17 matches of the season.

Oxley did more than simply provide a bandage for an injured Husker lineup. Oxley averaged 3.16 digs per game -- the second highest average on the team. She also chipped in 2.84 kills-per game and had a solid .237 hitting percentage.

Oxley posted seven double-doubles and broke the Nebraska Coliseum record for digs in a three-game match with 22 against Kansas State. She had a season-high 16 kills in a victory at Texas Tech. While the Ogallala native is still adjusting to the college game, she has a bright future in a Nebraska uniform.

"There are very few freshmen who could have done what she did last year," Pettit said. "She is a strong player, both physically and mentally."

Pettit's long list of talented reserves will be led by Big 12 Newcomer-of-the-Year, Katie Jahnke of West Bend, Wis.

Jahnke became the third straight Husker to earn conference newcomer-of-the-year honors after seeing action in 90 games and recording 103 kills. Jahnke tied Tauke for team-high hitting percentage honors with a .302 average. She played improved defense last year and committed just two receiving errors. According to Pettit, she should be a better all-around player as a sophomore.

Juniors Nikki Henk, Kim Crandall, and Denise Koziol round out a talented junior class.

Henk, a 5-9 defensive specialist, returned to her native state after earning All-TransAmerica Athletic Conference honors at the College of Charleston as a freshman. Henk made an immediate impact for Pettit's squad, playing in all 34 matches. She finished with 156 digs, sixth-best on the team, and established herself as an aggressive server, recording 10 service aces.

Crandall, another talented defensive specialist, looks to see added playing time after improving her passing skills in the off-season. The two-time letterwinner from Papillion, Neb., Crandall saw action in 22 games last year and will add to the Husker depth this season.

Koziol, saw action in 28 matches as a sophomore and gained valuable experience after rehabilitating from a knee injury her first two seasons. In her first season on the court, Koziol had 97 digs and 53 kills.

Sophomore outside hitter Nancy Meendering is projected by many to be the darkhorse on this year's squad. A 6-1 left-hander, Meendering (pronounced MAINE-der-ing) showed flashes of brilliance as a freshman and will challenge for valuable playing time this season.

"Nancy is a gifted athlete," Pettit said. "She hits the ball harder than anyone who has played here."

Sophomore Kim Behrends is perhaps one of the most promising underclassmen on this year's squad. The 6-0 sophomore saw limited action as a freshman, but looks to see added playing time this fall.

Sophomore Jill McWilliams of Des Moines, Iowa, has once again been tabbed as the reserve setter. However, she will likely see added playing time this fall as Pettit experiments with a two-setter (6-2) offense.

Pettit added to his talent-laden team with the addition of freshmen Jenny Kropp of Grand Island and Crete native Pam Krecji (pronounced KRAY-chee). Both newcomers could see limited action, as they adjust to the collegiate game.

The Huskers will open the season with a tough non-conference schedule to prepare the team for the rigorous challenges in the Big 12 Conference. Nebraska will look to defend its 47-match win streak in the Nebraska Coliseum when it opens the season against in-state rival Creighton. The Huskers will then hit the road to take on the nation's elite at the San Diego State and Ohio State tournaments. Nebraska is slated to take on top-ranked teams such as Stanford, San Diego State and Ohio State the first two weekends.

Nebraska returns home to host the US Bank Tournament in the friendly confines of the NU Coliseum. There the Huskers will take on Wyoming and top-25 teams Florida and Loyola Marymount.

Pettit feels such a challenging non-conference schedule will prepare his squad for a run at the school's 21st conference championship in the last 23 years.

"The pre-conference tournaments are a little like going off Broadway before you bring your show to Broadway," said Pettit. "It gives you an opportunity to experiment. We'll probably play more people in those tournaments in significant roles to allow people to compete for those positions."

According to Pettit, the Big 12 should again hold its reputation as the nation's premier volleyball conference.

"I think three teams in the Big 12 will be top 10 teams," Pettit said. "Along with ourselves, Texas and Colorado all return experienced players. After that there's another five or six teams that should have a good chance at making the NCAA tournament."

With Pettit staring down one of the deepest Nebraska teams of the decade, his run of 16 straight NCAA tournament appearances looks to be in safe hands -- his own.

Angie Oxley earned Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year honors after starting the final 17 matches of the 1997 season.

Hire A Husker Student-Athlete

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand the commitment that they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition. Huskers also realize that everything they do as a student-athlete in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them through life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they too are gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Student-Athlete Employment Program Important?

Due to NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that our football program is allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a full-ride scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. Often times, these athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to off-set registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply make their dreams come true of becoming a Husker.

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board, books and fees. However, all other personal expenses i.e. returning home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

NCAA guidelines regarding student-athlete employment

Beginning with the 1998-99 school year, a student-athlete at the University of Nebraska who is receiving a full or partial athletic scholarship is permitted to earn legitimate on or off-campus employment during the semester as long as the amount earned in combination with other financial aid included in the student-athlete's individual limit, does not exceed the value of a full grant in aid plus $2000.

In order for a student-athlete to be eligible for an employment opportunity, certain NCAA Guidelines must be adhered to:

- * The student-athlete has attended the University of Nebraska for one academic year.
- * The student-athlete is eligible academically to compete for the University of Nebraska.
- * The student-athlete is not receiving remuneration because of the publicity, reputation, fame or personal following he has obtained because of athletics ability.
- * The student-athlete is to be compensated for work actually performed.
- * The rate of pay is to be the going rate of pay for the duties performed in the locality.

Assistant Coach
Dan Young

Assistant Coach
Turner Gill

- * The hours paid must be for the worked hours.
- * Transportation, uniforms, meals, or any other work related benefits may be provided only if such benefits are available for all employees.
- * The student-athlete will not earn in excess of his limit during the academic year as determined by the UNL Financial Aid Office.

What about summer vacation employment opportunities?

Any student-athlete, regardless of class status or eligibility status may be employed and earn unlimited compensation seven days prior to or during any official university holiday and vacation period; Christmas, Thanksgiving, Spring Break, Summer Vacation, etc. Furthermore, you may also employ a prospective student-athlete who has completed his senior year of high school and who has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.

Who benefits from employing a Husker Student-Athlete?

All parties involved with the employment of a Husker football player are in a win-win situation. As an employer, you benefit from the services and contributions of a young adult who has the discipline, desire and commitment to being a dependable employer for your business. As an employee, your employment opportunity for these young men enable them to gain valuable on-the-job experience as they prepare for their future and make the transition from being a college student-athlete to successful contributors in society. As a nation-leading football program, your commitment to employ a Husker enables our coaches to provide a "total package" and the best of overall opportunities for a prospective student-athlete to succeed during the recruiting process. And finally, the University of Nebraska can continue to be proud and pleased of the representation and recognition, career placement rate, and of course, our National Football Championship titles. You make a big difference and everyone benefits when you employ a Husker!

Who do you contact to become involved with the Student-Athlete Employment Program?

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coach Turner Gill and Coach Dan Young along with football secretary Joni Duff will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Compliance Assistant for the Athletic Department, located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed prior to the beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

Husker Employment Sponsors

Although the following listing may not adequately thank all of the individuals and businesses who have helped out the Husker work program over the years, the NU athletic department thanks these businesses for their support by allowing Husker student-athletes to gain valuable on-the-job experience. If your name or business was inadvertently omitted, we apologize. Thank you for your continued support of this program.

NU Experts Offer Tips for Kids Heading Back to School

Making Music Gives Kids Leg Up on Academic Success

The new school year often marks a youngster's initiation into the musical realm with opportunities to take formal lessons or join the band, but a University of Nebraska expert recommends encouraging your child's interest in music well before the first day of pre-school.

Catherine Mallett, an instructor of music education at NU, said research has proven that children who understand music and can play an instrument have an extra advantage for academic success. Studies have found that exposure to music develops not only a child's musicianship, but spatial-relations abilities, which help with higher level math skills.

Creating a rich musical environment in the home is as simple as listening to lots of music, singing with a child or keeping instruments around, she said. For more structured musical exposure, look for musical programming at a child's day care facility or enroll your child in a kindermusic class.

"At a young age, the emphasis is on providing lots of musical experiences and music being very playful," Mallett said. Structure isn't as important as providing a variety of musical experiences early on in a child's development.

"The earlier we start (with music exposure), the more potential we have for developing their musical abilities," she said. "We're not talking about everybody growing up and performing in Carnegie Hall, but having the ability to perform music that they appreciate and enjoy doing throughout their lives."

Choosing the right instrument for a budding melody maker is an important decision that can influence a child's lifelong appreciation of music, Mallett said. Many children start off on the piano — a good precursor that lays down fundamentals, such as musical pitch. Regardless of the instrument professional musicians play, those with a strong piano background seem to succeed earlier and go further in their careers, she said.

"(Piano) is good at developing basic musicianship skills that then are easier to learn and apply to any instrument later on."

When a child is ready to begin formal instruction beyond the keyboard, Mallett said parents should consider several factors to select an instrument the child will enjoy playing and strive to learn. First, she said, evaluate the child's current musical inclination.

"Assess where a child is in terms of musical development — not to limit the child, not to say you should do this and not that, but to help direct them in an area of strength so that they don't get frustrated," she said.

For example, taking up the trombone is a bad match for a child who can't discern pitches, because the instrument requires "pretty good ears," she said. The child might find it too much of a struggle and quit music altogether.

It's also important to determine a child's preference for sounds. Some children prefer a woodwind sound to brass or strings to woodwind, she said. Choose an instrument accordingly.

A child's physical attributes play an important role in choosing an instrument. Large, strong hands benefit a cellist, for example. Emphasize the positive, Mallett said. Rather than saying a particular instrument is off-limits because of a child's attributes, tell the child "because you are this way, you are going to do really well on this (other) instrument."

Once an instrument is chosen and the lessons have begun, Mallett said parents should encourage the child to practice as part of a daily routine, reward consistency and express interest in the child's musical progress.

Understanding the Bully Brain

Schoolyard bullies can be troublesome, not only for their victims but also for the negative status they themselves earn.

Susan Swearer, assistant professor in the educational psychology department's school psychology program at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said bullying behavior is defined as "repeated victimization (either verbal or physical aggression) by one's peers who have a power differential of some type." That differential could be in size, age or social status, she said.

Often, she said, bullies are themselves unhappy, insecure children with low self-image. Their inappropriate behavior is a way to ease their anxieties. And, she noted, children whose families settle squabbles with physical force or have aggressive behavior patterns might model that behavior with classmates.

Although most people think of boys as bullies, girls also exhibit this behavior, Swearer said. While boys might be more physically aggressive, the behavior in girls is less overtly aggressive and more subtle — cruel, hurtful comments and ostracizing or shunning behaviors are more common patterns for girls.

"It's important for girls to belong to a group," she said. "Ostracizing is a particularly effective way for girls to bully others."

Schools with firm policies against bullies probably have more success in stopping the problem before it escalates into something rougher, Swearer said. Many schools have boosted their attempts to get a handle on schoolyard violence and confrontation in light of recent incidents.

Parents whose children are victims have several options, Swearer said. Teach your children that walking away from a confrontation is a strength, not a weakness, she said. Praise rather than criticize a child who avoids a fight. Make sure your child isn't egging on the bullying behavior and fueling the fire.

Explain that the bully is the child who has the problem, Swearer said.

Children also should learn verbal assertiveness skills. Teach them non-aggressive ways to avert the behaviors. "I don't like what you are doing. Please stop," is language a child can use, Swearer said. Often bullies succeed because no one challenges them. The bully may back off if he or she senses the victim is not going to respond as the bully wants them to.

Parents also can practice "fogging" responses, she said. For example, if a bully says "you're a four-eyes" to a child with glasses, the child could respond "thanks, I take that as a compliment." This unexpected response injects some humor into the situation and also catches the bully off guard. If the bully doesn't get the expected "rise" out of his or her victim, the game is no longer being played.

Reading, Writing and RAM Technology Enhances Basic Education

Students of the '90s have grown up with technology. They've used calculators in the classroom and come home to a computer in the kitchen. And although technology has changed the way teachers and students work, a University of Nebraska expert said such changes have not come at the expense of a fundamental education.

Al Kilgore, a professor of curriculum and instruction at NU, said computers and calculators are valuable teaching tools, but they are only as good as the teacher directing their use.

"Teaching kids to learn to push buttons is no different than having them go to the blackboard and add 2 and 2," Kilgore said. "It's only part of the process; the curriculum is continuous. Technology is nothing more than a tool to enhance the learning process."

Kilgore equates the digital revolution with early predictions that television would replace the teacher's role.

"People thought all we had to do was find our very best teachers, videotape them, show them to all the students and everyone would learn from the very best," he said. "Obviously we still have schools, teachers, classrooms and universities — and television did not take over the medium. It became not an end-

Parents who learn that their children are the bullies need to examine their family patterns to see whether they are exhibiting this behavior as normal. Teaching ways to express anger and hostility in more appropriate ways is important, Swearer said. Parents should try to help a child who is insecure or carries a poor self-image to feel better about himself or herself but not at the expense of others' feelings.

Parents need to be aware of what their children are doing and get involved in their education, Swearer said. "By the time parents get a call to say their kids are bullies, the problem has gotten bigger than prevention."

all and be-all, but became a tool to use to help us learn more effectively.

"I see the computer chip as another tool similar to that. It helps us learn, but someone is still needed to translate, transfer knowledge and use the information."

Teachers seem to embrace the technology. Professor Birdie Holder, who specializes in instructional technology, visits the state's classrooms and reports widespread computer use starting in kindergarten.

At that level, students learn to manipulate the controls. In higher grades, more elaborate computer projects simply reinforce what students have learned while away from the keyboard.

Computers also offer a variety of learning activities, Holder said. "Some children learn better by seeing, some learn better by hearing, and some learn better by doing. With the computer you can combine all of those."

Computers won't replace the basic knowledge of reading, writing and computing, Holder said. But the machines will help students expand their knowledge beyond the classroom. "The world has moved beyond the textbook," Holder said. "And our students are going to function in a world that is dif-
